Moscow Holds Key To Time
For Action And Meeting Of Big Four On Germany

FORMAL STATEMENT
ASKED OF RUSSIA

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Soviet Russia held the key today to a timetable for lifting the Berlin blockade and the meeting of Big Four foreign ministers on the German problem.

The proposals of the western Allies on the problem have been transmitted to Moscow by Jacob A. Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations. They were presented to him by U. S. Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup in New York Wednesday.

To Report To Acheson
Jessup flew back to Washington last night and will report on the talk to Secretary of State Acheson today. Acheson is scheduled to deliver a foreign policy speech to the American Newspaper Publishers Association in New York tonight.

It was understood that Jessup asked for a formal statement of Russia's intentions.

There was no indication as to when Moscow will act but observers generally believed that preparations for lifting the blockade and calling the foreign ministers together are farther along than have been admitted in any official or unofficial statements.

Many Technical Details
However, there will be many technical details to be worked out before the news is given to the world.

First of all, the Kremlin will have to give its approval to the plans. Thereafter, the four gov-

NEW & OBSERVES

With the sun shining this morning, between 10:30 and 11 o'clock, flakes of snow floated through the air here.

Rock pile located at the corner of Pearson and Taylor street resembles a miniature stone quarry. The rocks were evidently transported there in connection with a commercial project.

Flight of a helicopter over the city shortly after three o'clock Wednesday afternoon, caused quite a bit of excitement about the city. Necks were craned heavenward to get a good glimpse of the sky vehicle.

Intersection of Grant and Sampson street was receiving new traffic lines on Wednesday, so that motorists would know which lane of traffic to use. The traffic routes were also being painted on the street surface.

Mushroom hunting was in progress on Wednesday, Pa. News is told. The night rains along with the warmer atmosphere brought out the fungus plants. As warmer weather approaches and gentle rains fall, more hunting parties will be in progress.

Bridge painting on several spans in Lawrence County is to be started shortly. A Sharpshooter contractor has secured the contract for painting of the spans controlled by the State highways department. Grant street bridge is among the spans to be painted.

An interesting observation is noted by Pa. News in connection with the city bus lines. For the first time in the history of the city, public transportation has been provided to the city line in the four directions, north, south, east and west. The Cascade Park bus hits the city's east line; the Croton-West side bus the west line; the Highland bus, the north border

Pact Ratification

Arm W. Europe

Such Is Implication Of Secretary Acheson's Explanation Of Pact Republicans Say

SAY TWO ISSUES ARE INSEPARABLE

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Two Senate Republican leaders declared today that Secretary of State Acheson has made it clear that if the Senate ratifies the North Atlantic pact it also must vote to arm western Europe.

Senate GOP Policy Chairman Taft, Ohio, said the Acheson's testimony to the foreign relations committee "made it perfectly clear that a vote for the pact is an obligation to vote for arms."

Minority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., accused the administration of "beating around the bush" in guarded statements about what obligations the pact carries. He said:

"Two Are Inseparable
"Acheson's statement, on the face of it, makes the pact and its implementation inseparable. Why do they beat around the bush? Why don't they tell the complete truth?"

The GOP spokesman criticized administration hesitancy on the issue as the committee called for

Repeater Station

Local Service Club Conducted Through Local Telephone Booster Station

New Castle Kiwanis Club members were taken on a tour through the repeater station of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, on Route 422, two miles west of the city, Wednesday afternoon. The visit was arranged by Kiwanian Frank Moorhead, who, however, was unable to be present, having been called to Pittsburgh on business, and his assistant, Raymond Webb, conducted the party through the station and explained the various parts of the station, showing them how telephone messages are picked up and boosted on to the next station, amplifying the voice of the speaker, so that it comes out strong and clear at the other end of the line.

Claim 100,000 More Troops
Have Arrived For Defense Of Shanghai

PLANS ARE MADE FOR CITY'S DEFENSE

By GEORGE VINE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SHANGHAI, April 28.—Chinese Nationalists claimed today that over 100,000 reinforcement troops have arrived to defend Shanghai against a twin-pronged Communist drive in force, that is admittedly within 40 miles of the port city.

Shanghai Police Commissioner Mao Sen said the new troops arrived aboard 12 Nationalist warships while Chiang Kai Shek and top government leaders conferred on final plans for the city's defense.

Chiang Leaves

Chiang left after the conference for the island of Amoy, off the China coast opposite Formosa, aboard the destroyer Tai Kang, the former U. S. Decker, built in Philadelphia in 1943 and given to China in 1946. His last act before leaving was the affirmation of his belief in ultimate Nationalist victory.

In Shanghai itself, another 250 Americans prepared to leave today aboard the liner President Wilson. Most of the remaining 1,800 have indicated they will stay in the hope of continuing their businesses under the Communists.

Nationalist spokesmen admitted that Communists have struck out from Soochow along the Nanking-Shanghai railway, and said a spearhead of some 4,000 troops has driven as far as Weiting, 40 miles west of Shanghai.

Communists Move

Another Communist column drove from Changsu 50 miles northwest of Shanghai, to Chih-tang, 5 miles to the east. The Nationalists hastily rushed crack troops from Shanghai to Taitsang, 25 miles northwest of the city, to stop this drive.

Nationalist spokesmen conceded guerrillas were active at points much closer to the city than the advance spearheads of the regular Communist forces. One skirmish with guerrillas reportedly took place at Quinsan, less than 30 miles to the west.

Simultaneously, three Commu-

Red Cross Office

Thieves Enter Cellular Window And Thoroughly Ransack Desks; Insurance Covers Loss

American Red Cross chapter house on North Beaver street was robbed of $31.90 last night.

Burglars entered through a cellular window and thoroughly ransacked desks and files throughout the building. They escaped through a back window in the executive secretary's office.

Thirty dollars in small bills and currency that had been part of the campaign contribution from Westminster College, turned in yesterday, was the largest loss. Petty cash totaling $1.90 was taken from the secretary's desk in the front office and a bank depositary bag worth $4.00 was ripped open. There was no money in the bag. All losses are covered by insurance.

The thief or thieves evidently had ample time as they took time out from their pillaging to chew part of a pack of gum that they found.

This was the second robbery of the office within the last year. One hundred dollars was stolen one night during mid-summer. Police are investigating the burglary today.

Nine Others Are Killed And Many Hurt In Attack Near Manila

MANILA, April 28.—(INS)—Madame Manuel Quezon, widow of the first president of the Philippine Commonwealth, and nine other persons were killed today when a troop-escorted Red Cross motorcade was ambushed by Hukabalahap rebels.

Eleven others were seriously wounded in the attack that provoked a bloody battle between the Leftist guerrillas and a constabulary escort force 75 miles north of Manila.

Among those slain, beside Mme. Quezon, were her 25-year-old daughter, Aurora; the mayor of Quezon City and two constabulary men.

In addition, the Philippines' former attorney general Sixto de La Costa, was reported by local police

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—President Truman announced today that Jonathan Daniels, North Carolina publisher and presidential advisor, has been offered the post of Secretary of Navy.

Daniels, who was an advisor both to the late President Roosevelt and President Truman, conferred with Mr. Truman late yesterday afternoon.

It had been reported on excellent authority previously that Daniels had been offered the post left vacant by the resignation of John Sullivan.

The president said that no decision has been reached as yet but that Daniels is among those under consideration for the Navy post.

Varied Future Faces Man Who Spent Ten Years In Small Room

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—Paul Makushak, bearded and much cleaner than when he came out of his 10-year hole-in-the-wall retreat, faced a future of varied possibilities today.

But if he has his way he'll probably go back into his three-foot six stuffy closet without sanitation facilities. There his only contact with the outside world would be through the earphones of a small radio and magazines that could be dropped from a small hole in the ceiling. Through this hole, too, would come his food, lowered by rope.

The first task of the six-foot 200-pound girl-hating Brooklyn youth who retired from the world in 1939, is to complete examinations by psychiatrists at Kings county hospital.

When a decision has been made on his mental status, he faces another on his federal position for reported failure to register for military service.

Painfully Shy
Investigators reported today that Makushak was a painfully shy boy who avoided any contacts with his fellow students at high school from which he was graduated last in a class of 237 in 1937.

Yet, the investigators found, Makushak was a better-than-average

Says Shanghai
To Be Defended

SHANGHAI, April 28.—(INS)—Shanghai's acting mayor, Chen Liang, asserted today that the world's fourth largest city "will be defended to the last man against Communist troops."

Chen, in an exclusive interview with International News Service, declared:

"I feel the defenses of Shanghai are very strong. There are already large numbers of strictly disciplined troops here, and numbers of others are entering the city daily in increasing amounts."

Police Commissioner Mao Sen said over 100,000 troop reinforcements have arrived in Shanghai aboard 12 government warships.

The government spokesmen said that a twin-pronged Communist attack in force has driven to within 40 miles of the city.

Meanwhile, Garrison Commander Gen. Tang En-Po tightened martial law and intensified the round-up of pro-Communist students. Two "rumor-mongers" were summarily executed and a curfew violation was shot and killed on the spot. Gen. Tang also decreed new measures designed to hold down incredibly-soaring prices.

PRR Train Derailed Near Fort Wayne

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 28.—(INS)—Seven passengers and 15 dining car employees were injured today when eight rear cars of the crack Broadway Limited of the Pennsylvania railroad were derailed three miles east of Fort Wayne.

None of the passengers or employees was reportedly seriously injured. All were taken to a Fort Wayne hospital.

Railroad officials said they had not yet determined the cause of the accident.

China Forces

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—National Broadcasting Company Correspondent Amos Landman reported from Shanghai today that Chiang Kai Shek has split with Acting National President Li Tsung-Jen on the issue of peace in China.

The NBC reporter said Chiang wants to fight on against the Communists while Li wants to make peace.

Chiang "retired" Jan. 21 to permit Li to enter the abortive peace negotiations with the Communists.

Small Girl Is Severely Burned

Clothing Of Sharon Leichtenberger, Walnut Street, Takes Fire From Stove

Little four-year-old Sharon Leichtenberger, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Richards of 302½ South Walnut street, is in a critical condition in the New Castle hospital, suffering from first, second and third degree burns of her entire body.

The youngster was burned Wednesday evening at 8:45 o'clock in her home, when her clothing caught fire from the gas flame of the kitchen stove.

According to the hospital report, the mother, Mrs. Richards, was warming her youngest baby's bottle on the kitchen stove. Upon hearing the child cry, she went into another room to attend to it, leaving the bottle warming on the stove. In the meantime, little Sharon crawled onto the table-top stove, reaching for a purse which was on the top. In some manner her clothes became ignited and her screams brought Mrs. Richards back to the kitchen.

Sharon was rushed to the hospital, where she was given immediate treatment. Her condition is critical and she spent a restless evening last night, according to reports.

Russia Acting
In Good Faith
Says President

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Truman said today that he believes Russia is acting in good faith in its proposals to end the Berlin blockade and that he is encouraged by recent developments in U. S.-Soviet relations.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that if he did not think the Russians were acting in good faith, the present conversations would not be continued.

The president said that he is encouraged by the recent developments that have broken through the nearly year-old impasse between Russia and the western democracies on Berlin.

President's Answers

He made these statements in response to questions. One question was:

"Do you believe the Russians are acting in good faith in their proposals to lift the Berlin blockade?"

The president said if he didn't think so conversations with Russia on that subject would not be continued.

Asked if he was encouraged by the conversations between the U. N. representatives of the two countries, the president said, yes, that he is encouraged.

As to any developments in the negotiations, the president said that what he knows is contained in the statement that was issued by the State Department yesterday.

New President
Of Westminster
Given Welcome

Dr. Will W. Orr Greeted Enthusiastically By Host At Local College

EVENT WEDNESDAY

Westminster College welcomed her new president Wednesday, April 27, at New Wilmington.

In a welcome that was as tumultuous as it was genuine, Dr. Will W. Orr, ninth president of the college was greeted by students, faculty, alumni and townspeople.

As a spectacle, the welcome was the most colorful affair New Wilmington has seen in years. As a testimonial to a new leader it seemed an augury of future success.

Parade and Reception

The college and the boro figuratively "rolled out the red carpet" for the new president.

A parade of floats and cars met the new president and his family several miles outside the boro. Flag bedecked streets added color to the occasion, the college band added the proper musical touch and the parade itself was a tribute to the loyalty and the ingenuity of the students.

Dr. Orr had been prepared for a reception. He apparently was entirely unprepared for the friendly furor of his arrival occasioned. "After such a welcome there isn't much I can say," said he at the close of the parade. "It's a tribute that leaves me completely overwhelmed."

For the welcome the college was dismissed for the day and at noon the boro was abuzz with excitement. Shortly after 1, the floats and cars headed west toward New Bedford to pick up the Orr party. Entering the boro of New Wilmington the parade moved over the streets, finishing at the reviewing stand which was located at the steps of the United Presbyterian church.

Color and Ingenuity

The floats were entirely the work of the student body. Fraternities and sororities seemed to vie with each other for ingenious ideas and welcoming phrases and the result was pleasant to see.

One float, the prize winner, was the work of the girls of Chi Omega. It was a "Gold Rush of '49" float with a bevy of lovely damsels hiding their pulchritude behind miners' costumes. One of the signs on the float announced that "we didn't find gold, we found Orr."

Sigma Phi Epsilon won second prize with a slave boat float with the Kappa Deltas taking third prize. The Sigma Kaps and the Alpha Sigma P's won honorable mention.

There were many other floats, ingenious, descriptive and all of them adding to the gaiety of the day. Even the weatherman seemed in the mood for overhead a hot April sun gave the day a mid-summer appearance.

Three motorcycle riders headed the parade, followed by the college band of 65 pieces. Following the band was a car bearing the Orr family. Dr. John Orr who has been acting president and Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, former president of Westminster, in line were hundreds of students, Boy and Girl Scouts and New Wilmington school children.

Judges for the floats were Mr.

RAINBOW HEAD IS HOME FROM TRIP

Mrs. Charles E. Allen, of Winter avenue, Supreme Deputy in Pennsylvania, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, has returned from a trip through the eastern part of the state, in connection with her position.

On Saturday, Mrs. Allen and Miss Ann Sartwell, of Ellwood City, Grand Worthy Advisor, instituted a new assembly at Allentown, Pa.

Monday evening, she conducted an inspection of the new Easton Assembly, and on Tuesday evening, was guest of the four Rainbow Assemblies of District 7, at Glenside, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Allen, and the committee from District Two, are now busy engaged in making plans for the annual meeting of the Grand Assembly of Pennsylvania, which will take place here the first week of August. Mrs. John D. Sartwell, of Ellwood City, is general chairman, and the various assemblies of the local district will be hosts on the occasion, when 1,000 Rainbow girls will assemble here.

Report of the Lawrence County Garden Council at Trinity church on April 6 was heard. The next county council is planned for June 1 at the same church. On June 10, Mrs. John Robinson of R.D. 5 will entertain the East Brook club. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess.

WOMEN'S AID PLANS SPRING LUNCHEON

Women's Aid, Pennsylvania Railroad, will have their annual spring luncheon Tuesday, May 10, at St. Margaret's hall, Seventh ward.

The luncheon will begin at one o'clock with an interesting program to follow.

Busy Dozen Club

Members of the Busy Dozen club met in the home of Mrs. George Farone of 404 Cascade street, Wednesday evening, at which time sewing was the pastime.

Mrs. Charles Venturilla was a special guest. During the short business session plans were made to hold a dinner and theater party May 11. Mrs. Samuel J. Audia then presented the hostess with the club token.

Mrs. Patsy Yacaboni assisted the hostess in serving a dainty lunch. The next meeting will be May 25 in the home of Mrs. James Pascarella, of East Brook.

ROSSI-MORELLA MORNING WEDDING

Miss Edith Rossi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rossi of 906 Chestnut street, became the bride of Thomas Morella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morella of 303 Taylor street, at a lovely church wedding solemnized in St. Vitus church Saturday morning, April 23, at 9 o'clock Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar of lilies and ferns.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a beautiful gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a full skirt and a trim of French lace. Her fingertip veil of pure French silk fell from a halo of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies centered with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, gift of the groom.

Miss Marie Morella, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor and was attired in a gown of lavender, with matching hat and mitts. She carried yellow roses.

The bridesmaids, Misses Edith Schenp and Olivia Palumbo, wore pale green taffeta gowns with matching hats and mitts. They carried red roses. Miss JoAnna Calgella of Pittsburgh served as a flower girl for her aunt and wore an organdy gown trimmed in organdy eyelet. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daffodils. Louis Palumbo, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Gilbert Tarquino of Aliquippa served the groom as best man and the ushers were Ralph Morella, Jr., and Joseph Rossi, Jr.

Following the ceremony there was a breakfast served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palumbo, sister of the groom, for the immediate families and in the afternoon a wedding dinner was served in the immediate families in a local dining room. A reception was held in the evening at the Ecclesian club for 200 guests.

The newlyweds then left on an eastern wedding trip and upon their return will reside at 906 Chestnut street.

ALTAR-ROSARY DINNER ENJOYED

The post spring Easter social event of the Altar-Rosary society of St. Vitus church enjoyed a covered dish dinner in the church hall Wednesday evening with 60 in attendance as guest of the evening was Rev. Fr. Vincent Bertoline, assistant pastor.

Mrs. Margaret Capezio was in charge of entertainment. An educational film on television was shown under the auspices of the Bell Telephone company.

The rosary was awarded to Mrs. Teresa Colicella.

Mrs. Helen Frabotta was the general chairman, and her aides were: Mrs. Lena Frediani, Mrs. Julia Failla, Mrs. Rose Fazzone, Mrs. Viola Fazzone, Mrs. Mary DeCarbo, Mrs. Della Conti, Mrs. Antoinette Conti, Mrs. Mary Cavelli, and Mrs. Angelina Frasso.

BRIDE-ELECT IS GUEST OF HONOR

A shower was held in honor of Miss Alvera Jannetti by the Bup-Gar club recently at the home of Miss Dolores Francis, 513 East Friendship street.

Miss Jannetti received many lovely gifts and was also honored with a lovely gift from the club girls.

Games were played, prizes going to Marie Cardella and Kate Costello. Helen Iozzi captured the door prize.

A delicious lunch was served by the committee, Mildred Felasco, Mrs. Marge Valletta and Miss Dolores Francis.

Miss Jannetti is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Jannetti of 707 East Long avenue and will become the bride of Pete Tedesco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tedesco, of 1203 Pollock avenue, on Saturday, May 28, in St. Vitus church.

During the recess, the retiring noble grand presented each of her officers and committees with a lovely gift, after which Mrs. Eva Drumheller, past noble grand presented Mrs. Walters with a gift from her officers and members.

Preceding the installation a dinner was served to a large number of members and guests from various Rebekah lodges. Mrs. Kate Withers, social chairlady, was in charge of arrangements for the evening.

The next regular meeting will be a Mothers and Daughters banquet to be held May 9 with Mrs. Charlotte Phipps in charge.

MASTREN-CIFRA CHURCH WEDDING

One of the loveliest of spring weddings was solemnized in St. Vitus church April 23 uniting in marriage Miss Edridge Mastren, daughter of Mrs. Aurelio Mastren, 211 East Friendship street, and Frederick Cifra, son of Mr. Michael Cifra, R. D. 1, Edenburg.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives. Spring flowers and ferns embanked the altars and appropriate nuptial music was provided by the organist.

Given in marriage by her brother, Henry, the bride was charming in a white lace gown, fashioned princess style with satin underlining. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a white prayer book marked with orchids and streamers of Stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls.

Mrs. Henry Mastren, as matron of honor, wore a lime taffeta gown with off-shoulder effect and bustle. She carried a colonial bouquet of talisman roses and wore a matching headpiece.

Robert Wolanin, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride for guests numbering 25. At noon the wedding dinner was served at Oakhurst, after which the informal reception at the bride's home was from 2 to 5 o'clock. Many friends and relatives also called at the bridegroom's home, the couple later arriving there.

Mr. and Mrs. Cifra departed later on an undiscussed wedding trip and will return in a week and reside in Edenburg. Mr. Cifra has been a veteran for three and a half years and also served overseas. They both are employed at the Johnson Bronze company.

SISTERHOOD PLANS MONTHLY LUNCHEON

Temple Israel Sisterhood will have its monthly luncheon meeting on Tuesday, May 3, at one o'clock, in the social rooms of Temple Israel, with Mrs. Louis Sandler, the president, presiding.

Mrs. Jack Gerson and her committee will have charge of the luncheon arrangements for the day.

Plans will be completed for the annual donor dinner, of which Mrs. Lawrence Perelman is chairman, at this meeting.

Y.M.L. Club

Mrs. Joseph Cugini, of Hazen street, entertained members of the Y.M.L. club Wednesday evening in her home.

Five hundred was the pastime of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. James Zarilla, Mrs. Lucy Vitola and Mrs. John Zona. The door prize was awarded to Mrs. Margaret Lavella. A gift was presented to the special guest, Mrs. Matilda Perrotta.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess at a late hour. The next meeting will be May 18 in the home of Mrs. Rose Cotelesse, of 511 Pearson street.

Gayette Club

Members of the Gayette club met Wednesday evening in a local dining room, with Mrs. Ernest Gillette and Mrs. James Shaughnessy as co-hostesses. Spring flowers and lighted candles made up the table appointments.

Contests were the pastimes for the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Louis D'Angelo and Mrs. Felix Dell. The anniversary of Mrs. Sam Angelo was honored and she was presented with an array of lovely gifts.

The next meeting will be May 12 in the club rooms, with Mrs. Robert Mash as hostess.

'Columbian' Coach Named New Castle

In a short time the name "New Castle" will be carried between Chicago and Washington on one of the world's crack passenger trains.

"The Columbian," one of the Baltimore & Ohio limiteds, will soon be outfitted with new Pullman coaches and one of the new coaches will be the "New Castle."

Carl Myland, formerly of New Castle, now of the Pullman company of Chicago, said today that the new "Columbian" is the last word in modern passenger train design.

As a former New Castle man he was delighted to have a part in turning out a modern Pullman car bearing the name of his native city.

Receives Severe Cuts In Accident

Trapped in a coal truck which overturned near New Wilmington, Kenneth Keck, aged 21, of 913 West Washington street, suffered severe cuts about the face and severe bruises Wednesday. At Mercer Cottage hospital six stitches were required to close a bad gash across the forehead. Keck was also treated for bruises to his legs and arms but was not admitted to the hospital.

Keck, driver of a truck owned by Alex M. Elias of R. D. 2, New Castle, told staff of R. D. 2, New Castle, that he was forced off the highway by an oncoming car as he drove on the Mercer-New Wilmington road.

From Mrs. Elsie Kowalsky, a neighbor, with whom Paul's mother, Anna, shared the secret of her son's hideaway, investigators learned the youth repeatedly refused her pleas to quit his dungeon.

Mrs. Kowalsky said she passed food in cans by rope through a hole in the ceiling to Paul, when his mother was bedded by an illness which sent her to a hospital. As soon as the mother was out of the house, Mrs. Kowalsky called in police who batted down a sealed-up wall to release the youth from his cluttered cubicle.

Deaths Of The Day

Mrs. Joseph W. Barnes

Mrs. Joseph W. Barnes, aged 89 years, died today at 5 a.m. at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Horace T. Tressler, 1017 Beckford street, after a two years' illness.

Mrs. Barnes, the former Margaret Moore, was preceded in death by her husband in May, 1934.

Born at Aberdare, Wales, February 26, 1860, she was a daughter of Thomas and Mary Jenkins Moore. Mrs. Barnes, who came to New Castle since 1893. She was a member of the First Baptist church since coming to this city.

Survivors include one brother, Harry C. Moore, Chicago, Ill.; nine grandchildren, including Mrs. Tressler, and several great-grandchildren.

She also leaves two step-sons, W. L. Barnes, West Austintown, O., and O. P. Barnes, Salem, O.

Rev. Oliver W. Hurst will officiate at funeral services Saturday at 2 p.m., D.S.T., from the Howard L. Reynolds funeral home, Adams street, where friends may call today from 7 to 9 p.m. and the same hours on Friday. Interment will take place in Graceland cemetery.

Charles Joseph.

Charles Joseph, aged 57 years, 607 East Long avenue, died Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the Memorial hospital, where he had been a patient for two days. Mr. Joseph had been ill for one year.

Born in Syria, March 15, 1892, he was a son of Mike and Hilda Joseph. Mr. Joseph, a resident of New Castle for 32 years, was employed at the National Radiator company.

The deceased was a member of St. Elias Orthodox church. Survivors include his widow, the former Fannie Swad, whom he married 36 years ago, and ten children, Mrs. Ellis Ivan, Urichville, O.; Mrs. Thomas Tony and Charles Joseph, both of New Castle; Mary Joseph, San Antonio, Tex.; Mrs. Tony Maravilla, Youngstown, O.; Sara, Selma, Mike, James and Albert Joseph, all at home.

He also leaves one brother, Joseph Charky, Meadville, Pa., and six grandchildren.

The body has been removed from the John R. Hodge Funeral Home to St. Elias Orthodox church, East Reynolds street, where Rev. Elias Nader will officiate at funeral services Saturday at 2 p.m., D.S.T. Interment will take place in Graceland cemetery.

Friends may call at any time at the church.

Miss Lydia Hughes

Funeral services for Miss Lydia Hughes, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., were conducted today at Mt. Vernon. After the body is cremated, ashes will be brought here to the R. L. Boyd funeral home for interment in Graceland cemetery.

Miss Hughes died at the age of 70 years on April 25, at Mt. Vernon hospital after an illness due to complications. Born in Washington, Pa., February 11, 1879, she was a daughter of Lydia Meek Hughes and the late John H. Hughes.

Miss Hughes, a retired school teacher, resided for 25 years in Mt. Vernon. She was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Survivors are: her mother, Mrs. J. H. Hughes, New Bedford; five sisters, Mrs. J. A. Walker, Mrs. Norman Hoyer and Mrs. Theron Phillips, all of Pulask, the Misses Sara and Helen Hughes, both of New Bedford, and three brothers, Charles Hughes, Dayton, O.; Frank Hughes, Meadville, and Wilbert E. Hughes, New Castle.

Her father and one sister, Marie Hughes, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Zenas C. Anon

Mrs. Zenas C. Anon, aged 78 years, died Wednesday at 10:45 p.m. at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Gilmore, 1211 Albert street, where she resided. She suffered a stroke 13 years ago, being confined to bed for the past six months. Mrs. Anon, the former Adelaide Dalton, was preceded in death by her husband May 8, 1927.

Born May 7, 1870, at Wakarusa, O., she was a daughter of William and Christine Dalton, being the oldest of 12 children, of whom eight are still living. She was a charter member of St. John's Lutheran church.

Survivors are: one daughter, Mrs. Jeannette Gilmore, with whom she resided, three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. Anon also leaves seven

Funeral services for Mrs. Bessie E. Schibik of 1013 Winslow avenue were held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Leyde mortuary with Elder Carl Ryhal in charge.

During the services Elder and Mrs. Carl Ryhal sang two favorite hymns of the deceased. This morning the body was sent to the Dering funeral home at Morgantown, W. Va., where further services will be held Friday at 11 a.m.

PACT RATIFICATION MEANS U. S. MUST ARM W. EUROPE

testimony today from Warren Austin, U. S. representative to the United Nations, who has wrestled with the Soviet veto which the pact is designed to bypass.

Austin previously had announced his full support of the North Atlantic treaty. Also called today was Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

Acheson's statement touched off criticism by Taft and Wherry. He said a senator who voted for ratification of the pact would have an obligation to vote to implement it, but would be free to exercise his own judgment about what implementation was required.

Power To Send Troops

Sen. Donnell (R) Mo., declared that the obligation goes so far as to give the president power to send American troops into war abroad without a declaration of war by congress.

Acheson declined to pass on that question of constitutional law. He suggested that it might be put up to the attorney general.

Despite Acheson's plea that the pact and its implementation be considered separately, it appeared likely that senators would insist on a disclosure, at least in general terms, of what the United States will do.

Acheson emphasized that the United States will not maintain American troops in Europe "prior to aggression" action against one of the treaty nations.

NEW PRESIDENT OF WESTMINSTER GIVEN WELCOME

and Mrs. Aaron Powers, Jack Carr and Dale Milligan, all former members of Dr. Orr's church in Des Moines, Iowa. Presently the three young men named are students in Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary.

The prizes for the floats were presented by the three children of Dr. and Mrs. Orr, Wilson, age 9, Arlis, age 7, and David, age 5.

Reception On South Terrace

Following disbanding of the parade a reception took place on the south terrace. Here hundreds of students, alumni and townspeople gathered to see and hear the new president and a short program was directed by Ray Dunlap, a student.

Opening the program Prof. Don Cameron directed the college band in the college hymn and other numbers and a group of girl cheerleaders cheered the crowd in cheers for the Orrs.

A number of short addresses were made. Dr. J. A. Swindler, senior member of the faculty, tendered the welcome of the faculty, and Dr. H. G. Gibson, secretary of the Board of Christian Education, spoke for the United Presbyterian church. Burgess William Gilliland spoke for the townspeople.

Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, former president, said if he represented the "Spirit of History," Dr. Orr represented the "Spirit of Tomorrow." "What has been done at Westminster belongs to yesterday," said Dr. Galbreath. "It is the tomorrow that is important." Jack Lewis welcomed Dr. Orr on behalf of the alumni.

Dr. Orr Responds

Dr. Orr responded briefly. "This is an overwhelming affair," said he. "I was told there would be a welcoming affair but no one told me it would be what this has been."

"Dr. Galbreath has said that it is the tomorrow that counts at Westminster. I agree with that and I look forward to the tomorrow here with hope and confidence, feeling sure that all of you will join with me in building a bigger and greater Westminster."

In the evening a most formal welcome took place in the college chapel. Dr. John Orr, who has been acting president, pronounced the invocation, Rev. George Meyers of the Methodist church the prayer, and Prof. Alan B. Davis representing the Presbyterian church read the scripture. Rev. Robert McDonald welcomed the new president on behalf of the community.

Dr. John Orr of the faculty, who has been acting for a year, gave the history of Westminster presidents and a history of the college.

Official Welcome

James Ferguson of Bellevue, president of the board of trustees, gave the official welcome to which Dr. Orr responded. Special music was provided by the chapel choir with Prof. A. M. Bonhoffer directing. A number of floral pieces presented by the civic clubs graced the chapel.

It was a great day for Westminster and for New Wilmington.

From the enthusiasm evidenced it seemed to mark a new era for the college, one that will see Westminster prosper and expand.

Dr. Orr comes to Westminster from Des Moines where he has been highly successful in the ministry for ten years.

He is the ninth man to take the presidency of the college since 1853. The others have been Dr. James Patterson, 1853-1866; Dr. Robert Audley Browne, 1867-1869; Dr. E. T. Jeffers, 1872-1883; Dr. Robert Gracey Ferguson, 1884-1906; Dr. Robert McWatty Russell, 1906-1915; Dr. Charles W. Wallace, 1916-31; Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, 1932-1946; Dr. H. Lloyd Cleland, 1947-49.

In addition there have been acting or interim presidents.

They were Rev. John Knox McClurkin, 1873; Dr. Charles A. Freeman, 1915-16 and 1931-32; Dr. John Orr, 1948-49.

nist armies drove south in a giant pincer to isolate Shanghai by cutting its land communications. Advance parties of these armies were reported close to Shimen, 75 miles southwest of Shanghai, in Chiang Kai-Shek's home province of Chekiang. Capture of Shimen would cut the rail line from Shanghai to Hangchow.

Warn Western Powers

A Communist broadcast again warned the western powers to withdraw naval and military forces from China. The broadcast said that diplomatic and trade relations with the Chinese Communists would be carried on only on the basis of "equality" and repeated that there would be "no special privileges for any foreign power."

The broadcast added that foreigners who fulfill the requirements of the "peoples government" will be permitted to carry on "any honest" business.

Strict censorship was still in effect in Shanghai. But it was definitely learned that reports of the capture of Putung, across the river from Shanghai, were in error.

BLOCKADE LIFTING PROPOSALS GIVEN TO SOVIET RUSSIA

ernments are expected to consult on a method to releasing the news to the public simultaneously in all four capitals.

Unconfirmed reports maintain that Ambassador Robert D. Murphy is already discussing the mechanics of lifting the blockade while in Berlin conferring with Gen. Lucius Clay, commander of American occupation forces in Germany. Murphy is Clay's political advisor.

Officials continued to maintain an air of caution in dealing with the latest development in the East-West cold war.

Expect Blockade Lifting

This does not alter their conviction that the blockade will be lifted or that the foreign ministers meeting will be held.

Their caution centers around the possibility of a Russian maneuver to discourage the formation of a western German government.

While a constitution has been agreed upon among the German political leaders at Bonn, two further steps must be taken. The constitution must be popularly approved and a parliament elected before the government is in full authority.

The western powers have said they will not agree to halt or postpone their efforts to establish a West German government.

Testimony In Judith Coplon Case To Start

By CHARLES E. SEIB
(U. S. & Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 28. — A shadowy figure named "Michael" became the mystery man of the Judith Coplon espionage trial today while prosecution and defense lawyers prepared to make opening arguments to the jury.

"Michael" came to light in a sensational memorandum which the FBI says was written by the ex-government girl and found in her handbag at the time of her arrest.

The memo started off with these words:

"I have not been able (and I don't think I will) to get the top secret FBI report which I described to Michael on Soviet and Communist intelligence activities in the United States."

There was no further identification of Michael. It is believed the government still does not know who he is.

Statement Quoted
The statement was quoted in an affidavit signed by FBI Agent Robert R. Granville explaining the steps leading up to the arrest of Miss Coplon and Valentine Gubichev, Russian engineer, March 4 in New York, and the events that followed.

The government claims it was one of a number of papers, some of them so vital to national safety that they cannot be disclosed, which the 27-year-old former Justice department employee planned to hand over to Gubichev.

On the other hand, Miss Coplon's lawyer, bustling, wise-cracking Archibald Palmer, claims that the papers were merely notes for a book and that his client's only interest in Gubichev was a romantic one.

To Rule On Issue
The Granville affidavit was given to Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves to support the government's claim that Reeves should not order the return of all papers seized from Miss Coplon. Palmer says the papers were taken illegally and therefore cannot be used against her.

Reeves was expected to rule on this issue today, so the actual jury trial can get under way.

In addition to the memo, Granville reported that he found in Miss Coplon's purse:

1. More than 30 pages of "extracts from reports of the FBI on internal security matters."

2. Background information on "three potential recruits for the espionage service."

Texts of these documents were withheld for security reasons.

WASHINGTON CALLING

of government he will prefer democracy and that he will be a better citizen if he is convinced than he would be if he were coerced."

Far Reaching Effect

The Maryland legislature has passed a so-called anti-subversive law which, as the Washington Post pointed out editorially, might under strict interpretation of the law make it impossible to teach any political philosophy, even the principles set forth in the Declaration of Independence. Apparently fearing a free expression of the will of the voters, the legislature passed an amendment making the law effective immediately so that it would not be subject to petition for popular referendum.

Here is a sinister pattern repeated all too often in state after state. This country has grown great out of the free exchange of ideas and knowledge. That greatness can be destroyed unless those who believe in freedom, and I think that would include most Americans, now stand up and actively resist the fearmongers.

In my opinion, a member of the Communist party does not have an inherent right to teach in a tax-supported public institution. Communism in its basic belief advocates the overthrow of the present system and all its institutions. But any law that seeks to prevent the teaching of a political belief or to make criminals of those who advocate a belief cut straight across the Constitution with its greater charter of liberties. This is not the issue at the University of Chicago. A few students belong to a Communist study club and the fearmongers are behaving as though this rich and powerful nation were about to be undermined. or ten avoid milk. Deal with them as already advised. You may, of course, get enough milk into them or the young child by preparing many other foods which contain milk. In a few extreme instances such may be desirable. But as a rule, it is unnecessary trouble and it does not usually guarantee enough milk intake anyway. The principles involved in this article are explained at length in my bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction" to be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

UNTIL THE DUST SETTLES

It is too late to review past mistakes as the tragic collapse of Nationalistic China enters its final phase. The question now is whether anything can be salvaged from the catastrophe. Some experts think there is such a possibility.

Major General Chennault believes that a great deal of China can be saved from the Communists by immediate and substantial American aid. Some members of Congress support the same view. If they are right, to whom are the arms and money to be sent?

American arms sent to China swiftly find their way into Communist hands. American money lines the pockets of Nationalist leaders. The most dismal fact about China today is that there is no government and no leadership to which aid can be extended with confidence that the money and arms will be used effectively to combat the Red advance.

The State Department's decision to stand by and wait until the dust settles, in the hope that the Communists will eventually be bemired in the morass that has swallowed up so many of China's past conquerors, is not much of a policy. It is, in fact, a policy of despair.

But what other course can the United States follow, with any hope of success, short of sending American armies into China to fight the war that the leaders of Nationalist China are too inept, too weak, and too corrupt to fight for themselves?

GLOBAL AIR FORCE

Look for the United States Air Force to make some more nonstop flights around the world such as the one completed by the B-50 bomber Lady Luck II.

The Air Force made it plain after completion of the Lady Luck flight that the non-stop globe-girdling feat is going to be a standard part of its training program.

The next sensational stunt in this program may be a non-stop flight around the world by a formation of several bombers with a load equivalent to the weight of a heavy bomb—"A-bomb," that is.

Military observers expect the "mass" flight primarily to demonstrate what Air Secretary Stuart Symington already has explained—that United States bombers can carry a full bomb load on the globe-circling journey.

The Lady Luck's feat, incidentally, didn't do the Air Force any harm in Congress. It provided more ammunition for advocates of a strong United States air arm and you can look for Congress to support a large air force.

YES, HE WROTE IT

Here is a quotation from a prominent American which we find of more than passing interest:

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers. To preserve our independence we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we can prevent the Government from wasting the labor of the people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy. The same prudence which in our private life would forbid our paying our money for unexplained projects, forbids it in the disposition of public money."

If you were asked to guess, off-hand, who had penned these words, what would your reply be? Well, they were not uttered by Senator Taft of Ohio or any Republican in the United States Senate. Neither were they written by so staunch an old Democrat as Grover Cleveland, although they were read into the Congressional Record April 12, 1949, by a Democratic Representative from Louisiana.

A New Dealer, or any other type of left-winger, on reading the above quotation, would denounce it as reactionary. The very idea of "placing economy among the first and most important virtues!" The first and most important virtue these days is getting elected to office, and how could you tax and tax, and spend and spend, and elect and elect if you made economy an important virtue?

In order to satisfy your curiosity, if you have not already guessed as much, we may as well tell you that the above words were penned by no less a liberal statesman than Thomas Jefferson himself, whom Democrats, often with their tongues in their cheeks, still honor as the father of the Democratic Party. Mr. Jefferson may have been the father of the party, but as the party is now constituted it is only fair to say that, if the great liberal were to come to life now, we would have another case of the father who was unable to recognize his own child.

A boy preacher in Kansas has started out in a lifelong crusade against sin. He has certainly tackled a popular adversary.

It seems a certain Congressional appropriation was doubled by accident, which shows what can happen when you get careless with other people's money.

Washington no longer is worried about unemployment. If it gets too high those not working will be organized into another bureau to count those who are.

A prominent producer says perfection has not yet reached the movies. But it has come a long way since Paul Revere's ride was shown with telephone poles in the background.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

An interesting experiment in human psychology is promised for the near future when the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers meets again as a result of Soviet Russia's professed willingness to lift the Berlin blockade.

The central figure will be Andrei Y. Vishinsky. It will be his first appearance as leading Soviet spokesman at a Big Four meeting in his capacity as Russian foreign minister.

May Learn Of Shakeup
And the world may have its first chance of learning just what Premier Marshal Stalin intended when he shook up his government recently, putting Vishinsky in the place of Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and making the latter his own chief foreign advisor.

Vishinsky, well known on his own to be sure, has his anties and oratory at United Nations General Assembly meetings in Paris and at Lake Success attracted their full share of international attention. His past history as prosecutor in the famed Moscow "purge" trials made him a world figure at a time when even Molotov was obscured almost completely by Stalin.

In Critical Spot
But now he is being placed in a position where becomes the real far as relations with the western Allies are concerned and the picture he presents cannot fail to be a fascinating one.

The Big Four have not met since January, 1947, when the then Secretary of State Marshall grew sick and tired of the fact that Molotov had turned the conference into a sounding board for Soviet propaganda and told him so.

That was the end of the London session.

Many things have changed during the last two years and a half and in recent months, largely because of the Berlin airlift and the Allied counter-blockade, Russia has shown an increasing desire to bring the Big Four together again.

Reasons Obscure
The actual reasons for this still are somewhat obscure. Some information indicates that the Russians hope by one means or another to forestall creation of a three-power state in western Germany.

But U. S. Military Governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay and others have made it amply clear that nothing can change these plans or affect the state's creation, up to and including a Soviet termination of the blockade even without any strings attached.

In all probabilities, the Big Four meeting will have the currency question at the top of its agenda when it convenes.

Events developing since the ball was started rolling by the questionnaire sent to Stalin by I.N.S. European Manager Kingsbury Smith in January show that this is uppermost in the Soviet mind.

Allied Victory
There is no question that Russia's offer to lift the blockade if only a Big Four date is set represents a tremendous victory for Allied diplomacy and the airlift itself.

It is equally true that the Russians did everything in their power to make the blockade successful, to defeat the airlift and to reduce western power prestige to a minimum in Berlin and elsewhere in Germany.

She did not succeed on any of the three scores.

Just how seriously Soviet East German finances and economic conditions have deteriorated in recent months is a question difficult to answer.

But the Russians staked much on their propagandistic and material attempts to discredit the Allies. It must have taken a lot of soul-searching for the Soviets to repeat so substantially from their initial attitude and almost reverse themselves.

With the aid of so-called "peace congresses" and by other means the Soviets have been trying hard within recent weeks to prove to the masses that they are not aggressive. These steps now appear as definite preparatory moves for what now has taken place.

The Allies never opposed a new four-power meeting on Germany. They merely feared that the blockade be lifted first. This the Russians have promised to do and a new vista of contemporary history has been opened.

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN CHILD REFUSES HIS MILK

The most essential diet for the growing child is milk. Many children refuse to eat milk for months of age, and get nearly enough milk. Desirable as it may be to introduce other foods early, some children after learning to enjoy solid or semi-solid foods will slacken on their milk intake. For the child over seven or eight months of age, taking well to the palatable, canned, strained (and later), cut vegetables, the decline of milk consumption may be very marked indeed.

In such a case, the obvious solution is to cut down or eliminate for a necessary short while the other foods and to give the child at each feeding his milk first, since he is most hungry then. Sometimes lessened appetite for milk grows out of the mother's early efforts at trying to force the child directly to drink enough milk. This and starving him into choosing milk are as different as day from night.

Older Child
There's the child a bit older who has been taking milk from a cup or glass, who may not choose enough milk. He may fill up first with other foods. Place before him a half or a quarter cup of milk, nothing else. Don't tell him to drink it. Say nothing about the milk. But if he does not soon choose to drink all of it, put him down from the table and see that he can have not other food till the next mealtime. Be sure for a while that not too much milk is in the cup. After a week or so it may be more nearly full. Don't hurry on raising the amount.

If he drinks all the milk, give him a very small helping of the next most essential food you have prepared for him, keeping your lips sealed and your insides at rest the while. As soon as the child is old enough, you might put the milk into a small pitcher from which he can pour it into the cup as he likes.

Quart A Day
Suppose the child is two, four or five and he has not been choosing to drink enough milk. He needs at least a quart a day or as much as your pediatrician advises. Place before him first at the meal a half cup or less, nothing else. Say nothing, if he does not choose it, rather promptly remove the milk or let him get down, making sure he can have no other food before the next regular mealtime. The main thing in this program is to manage yourself; for you to keep your lips tight and for the rest of the family to say nothing and for nobody to show any feeling whatsoever whether he drinks the milk or not.

Of course, you might make his drinking the milk temporarily attractive by letting him drink it through a straw, or by putting a few raisins in the bottom of the cup he can see and eat when they are uncovered, or by asking him "to drink some for Mommy." Now some for Daddy. "Now some for Aunt Sally." By doing some monkey shines. But all such devices soon lose their pull.

This and starving him into choosing milk are as different as day from night.

Older Child
There's the child a bit older who has been taking milk from a cup or glass, who may not choose enough milk. He may fill up first with other foods. Place before him a half or a quarter cup of milk, nothing else. Don't tell him to drink it. Say nothing about the milk. But if he does not soon choose to drink all of it, put him down from the table and see that he can have not other food till the next mealtime. Be sure for a while that not too much milk is in the cup. After a week or so it may be more nearly full. Don't hurry on raising the amount.

If he drinks all the milk, give him a very small helping of the next most essential food you have prepared for him, keeping your lips sealed and your insides at rest the while. As soon as the child is old enough, you might put the milk into a small pitcher from which he can pour it into the cup as he likes.

Quart A Day
Suppose the child is two, four or five and he has not been choosing to drink enough milk. He needs at least a quart a day or as much as your pediatrician advises. Place before him first at the meal a half cup or less, nothing else. Say nothing, if he does not choose it, rather promptly remove the milk or let him get down, making sure he can have no other food before the next regular mealtime. The main thing in this program is to manage yourself; for you to keep your lips tight and for the rest of the family to say nothing and for nobody to show any feeling whatsoever whether he drinks the milk or not.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Sinister Pattern Being Repeated

WASHINGTON, April 28.—As a weapon in the war of propaganda between east and west the so-called peace conference in Paris misfired. It misfired because the charges brought against the United States were so fantastic.

Howard Fast, the writer, a member of the American delegation, went further than almost any other speaker. He had the effrontery in this day and age to talk about Soviet Russia as the home of liberty and to say that a "terror" existed in this country striking down anyone who spoke about peace.

The Soviet delegates must have been startled at this eulogy. Even their own propagandists do not go so far as to claim liberty, in the western sense, for the Soviet citizen.

Here at home we are free to advocate peace, even the kind of peace that would mean the surrender of Western Europe to Communist control. If any proof is needed, it was supplied by the Waldorf-Astoria peace conference held in New York a month ago.

Would End Liberties
When this has been said, however, the observer who looks at the facts here at home must add an important qualification. There is in this country a noisy and persistent minority that seems determined to end our liberties. These people are apparently so ridden by fear and suspicion that they do not have faith in the common sense and good judgment of the American people.

In one state legislature after another these fear-ridden zealots are tampering with and in some instances abrogating the ancient American heritage of freedom. If they have their way, if the fear, the hysteria, the intolerance are not checked, we shall find that we have made ourselves over in the image of what we profess to abhor—the totalitarian state.

Out in Illinois a committee of the legislature is "investigating" the University of Chicago for subversive activities. The university is supported from private sources and not from taxes. It is well recognized as one of the great centers of learning in this country.

The legislative committee has gone to extraordinary lengths in what seems to be a deliberate attempt to persecute and intimidate. An irresponsible and unqualified witness was allowed to smear Prof. Harold C. Urey, one of the atomic scientists who did major work on atomic fission. Urey has been cleared by several top security agencies for continuing studies in nuclear fission.

"The policy of repression of ideas cannot work and never has worked," Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins told the committee. "The alternative to it is the long, difficult road of education. To this the American people have been committed. It requires patience and tolerance, even in the face of intense provocation. It requires faith in the principles and practices of democracy, faith that when the citizen understands all forms (Continued on Page Five)

The World and the Mud Puddles

HERE AND THERE
We have been hearing discussion of our jury systems and how, maybe, there could be better methods of selecting jurors. One lawyer claims that the main attribute of a successful juror appears to be of official dumbness. We don't know about that, but it reminds us of a case in Judge Short's Court one time.

A witness was called to the stand. The first thing the prosecutor asked was whether the witness knew any of the jury.

"I know more than half of them," the witness replied.

"Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" demanded the prosecutor.

"Yes," snapped the witness. "And if it comes to that I'll tell you that I know more than all of them put together."

And he did not have to know very much at that.

We hear some strange stories emanating from behind the Iron Curtain.

One deals with the Russian family that ran a funeral home in the paper. It read: "Ivan Skaninsky Skavar has been called to a better world."

Next day, so the story goes, the family was arrested for criticizing the Soviet regime.

Experts in census figures are busy now predicting how many people there will be in the United States in 1955. They say that we will have a population of 155,780,000.

The experts had better talk about how many we are going to have at the next official census, taken in 1950. Perhaps they are making the 1955 prediction to show how wise they are—or otherwise.

Of course the China story reads true to form... the leaders got away safely and only people were left behind.

Our pride and joy, politically, is the fact that we can all vote if we are old enough. So it is interesting to see how interested the citizens of other nations are in their voting where they are able to vote.

Canada rounds up seventy per cent, England sixty per cent, France seventy per cent, little Italy ninety per cent.

Some canny onlookers down in Washington are wondering whether or not to lay bets that the Eighty-first Congress is going to succeed in "out-voting the 'worse' Eightieth Congress. It looks like a sporting proposition.

It is reported that they now have an A-bomb the size of golf ball that will wreck everything within a ten-mile radius.

BIBLE THOUGHT

He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?

Some Private Opinions

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

If I were John Ringling North, and were in search of a new side-show feature, I would track down the man who created the type face for the "Plus Tax" part of nearly all advertisements. In letters border that a burglar, advertisements ask buyers to take advantage of tremendous bargains, but way down, way down, tucked in the most obscure corner, is Mr. "Plus Tax".

It used to be that the man who could write the Lord's Prayer on the head of a pin, or on a grain of rice, was a sideshow drawing card. But the "Plus Tax" man makes him seem like a signboard pointer. One doesn't need to go to a doctor for an eye examination any more. If one can read "Plus Tax," it's a cinch that one's eyes are hitting on all right and in perfect condition.

Some Day It Will Happen
Some day some grocer is going to startle the world by putting the small mushrooms or the small strawberries on top of the package, instead of the four or five big ones. This will enable the customer to get a pleasant surprise. As he digs deeper in the carton he will find bigger and better berries or vegetables than were on the surface. As it is now, the deeper one digs the bigger the disappointment. I suppose that years ago this practice of putting the best on top fooled customers. It doesn't any more. It is probably the biggest builder of ill-will that exists today.

If you are a baseball lover, and most of us Americans are, then be sure to buy Tom Meany's "Baseball's Greatest Teams" ($3, A. S. Barnes and Co.). One of the best sportswriters of all time has written the story of the Yankees of 1927, the Braves of 1914, the White Sox of 1917, the Athletics of 1929, and all the other all-time teams. Even if you aren't a baseball lover, you will be by the time you finish reading this book.

Have Never Been Same
Automobiles have never been the same fun since the radiator cap disappeared. I thought about this today when I found an old radiator cap in the garage, a relic from an ancient Hupmobile. It is shaped like a clock face, and has a thermometer in it. When the mercury reached the top it was time to stop and fill the radiator with water. I remember an uncle of mine who almost went bankrupt buying new and novel caps for his Chalmers. Remember the Chalmers? Very smart car. He finally found what was in him the perfect cap. It was a bronze soldier, wearing the none too smart uniform of World War I, who held a small, silk American flag in his hands.

The wind would wear out the flag after ten or fifteen miles of driving. Being a patriotic uncle, my uncle had 100 or more American flags stacked under the back seat, and as soon as the flag started to show signs of wear and tear he would draw the car to a halt, make everyone get out, yank out the back seat, get a fresh flag, and stick it in the soldier's hands.

Chases Him Away
Nothing chases me away from a restaurant quicker than a sign which says, "We Make Our Own Chili." There are two things that are named which no housewife, no matter how housewifely, can make as well on her own stove. One is chili and the other tomato soup. That's a great thought for today, isn't it, men?

Have you ever been to a cashier's wicket in a bank without finding yourself behind a man who was depositing a week's intake—all in pennies, nickels, and dimes? Or have you ever tried to buy a railroad ticket in a hurry without being just behind someone who was buying a ticket to Yellowstone Park, with a month's stopover at Grand Rapids?

If your answer is no, then you're plain lucky.

JOBS UPON A TIME

By JIM THORPE, Sac and Fox Indian

JIM THORPE, Sac and Fox Indian, was born on an Oklahoma reservation. Though his sports career has long been over, there are many who still contend he was the greatest athlete of all time. Playing with the Carlisle Indians football team he scored 25 touchdowns in one season—still a record. They say he made a one-man show of the 1912 Olympic Games. His showing in the decathlon and pentathlon was especially hailed.

Later he became a professional baseball player and for a number of years was a member of the New York Giants outfield. He also played a good deal of pro football. You may have seen him in recent years in the role of an Indian in a number of motion pictures.

Report Changes In Labor Bill Are Agreed To

Democratic Congressional Sources
Say Secretary Tobin Agrees To Some Changes

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Democratic congressional sources said Wednesday that Labor Secretary Tobin has agreed to four amendments to the administration's new labor bill but rejected the anti-strike injunction weapon.

The cabinet officer reportedly agreed, however, to try to work out a compromise that will provide stronger authority for President Truman in handling national emergency strikes.

Administration congressional leaders are endeavoring to put their Taft-Hartley repeal measure in the form that will command the widest possible party support and ensure defeat of GOP-Southern Democrats' efforts to retain the present statute.

Can Beat Wood Bill

With Tobin's acceptance of four changes, Democratic House leaders are confident they can beat the Wood bill which would "repeal" Taft-Hartley but then re-enact most of its provisions.

The agreement with Tobin was reached as the House sought to conclude eight hours of general debate on the labor bill and begin voting Thursday. The labor secretary reportedly agreed to these amendments:

1. Free speech for employers as long as it does not involve threats or coercion against unions.

2. A "loyalty" vote for both management and union representatives to supplant the Taft-Hartley non-Communist affidavit.

3. A provision making both responsible for observances of management and labor mutually trusts.

4. Requirement of registration and financial statements from unions.

Rep. Lesinski (D) Mich., chairman of the House Labor committee, who introduced the administration measure, also agreed to the four amendments.

Both Tobin and Lesinski are still opposed to use of "court orders to halt major strikes." The Taft-Hartley act contains a provision for an 80-day injunction but the administration bill relies on voluntary procedures.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 28.—You probably never heard of movie actor Rod Redwing, a gup whose finely-chiselled features have trademarked films for years.

Redwing's real moniker is Rod-erick Rajpurkail, Jr. and you probably never heard of that name either.

His pop was a Bengalese and his mom was a Chickasaw, which makes Redwing a full-blooded Indian—Asiatic and American.

Looks Young

The blending of east with west apparently has produced a formula for perpetual youth. The actor is 46 but practically every time he saunters into a strange Hollywood night club the bartender asks him for identification to prove he isn't a minor.

Almost every cowboy star in the screen dodge has taken lessons from Redwing on how to manipulate a shootin' iron. He is rated as the fastest fellow extant with a gun, having drawn an equalizer, aimed, fired and blasted a bullseye all in two-tenths of a second.

Good Painter

Redwing also is reputed to be hot-shakes with a paint brush. A portrait he made of the late President Roosevelt found a spot of honor in FDR's collection. Many movie moguls have posed for Rod.

Between screen chores he travels the cabaret circuit as a master magician. And he often takes his tricks into the wards of orthopedic hospitals to help young patients regain use of their hands by performing card stunts.

Several years ago, during one of his hospital tours, Rod met a girl who had no control of her fingers. Under his direction she learned hand manipulation and today she is an efficient secretary who can bang out 110 words a minute on her Underwood.

Private Detective

When he isn't too busy with all his other endeavors, Redwing works as a private detective. He specializes on inside jobs. If a nightclub boss thinks an employee's fingers are too sticky, Rod signs on as a worker and in due time ferrets out the thief.

Redwing is one of the Hollywood nebulae who rarely gets mentioned in movie columns or magazines. Yet his own life story would make a fabulous film.

Cecil B. DeMille touts Rod so highly that the dean of directors has used him in every flicker since "The Squaw Man," including his latest, "Samson and Delilah."

Good Impersonator

He impersonates perfectly American and Asiatic Indians, Filipinos and a myria of other Oriental and Occidental types.

Redwing, whose most recent film is Paramount's "Rope of Sand," has concocted a recipe for keeping young:

"No jealousy, no superstition, no worry," he said. "Strike those three words from your vocabulary and you won't go gray or look old."

Soldier Killed On Pike Near Bedford

Another Man Seriously Injured In Auto Accident On Turnpike
28 Miles East Of Bedford

BEDFORD, Pa., April 28.—(INS)—A soldier was killed Wednesday and another man injured seriously in an automobile accident on the Pennsylvania turnpike 28 miles east of Bedford.

The soldier, whose name was withheld pending notification of next of kin, was a passenger in a car driven by Leonard J. Clark, 20, of Sunbury, Pa.

Clark, who was recently discharged from the army at Fort Riley, Kan., is being treated at the Everett hospital for a possible fractured skull.

State police said Clark apparently fell asleep while driving. His car rammed the rear end of a tractor-trailer parked along a curve of the turnpike.

Second Member Of Siamese Twins Dies

OWENSBORO, Ky., April 28.—(INS)—The second member of a set of Siamese twins born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Glover, Jr., was dead Wednesday following an operation to separate them.

The babies were twin girls born yesterday morning to Mrs. Glover in a Caesarean birth. They were joined back to back at the base of their spines.

Physicians who examined the twins said only one of them was formed properly and death would be certain for both unless they were separated. One twin died immediately after the operation and the second, which had been rated a chance to live, survived only eight hours.

The 23-year-old mother was taken to the hospital Monday night.

229th Officers In Monthly Meet

Consolidated Officers School Is Conducted At Grove City Armory

Officers of the 229th Field Artillery, under the command of Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell, convened in the Grove City armory Sunday for their monthly consolidated officers school, coming from New Castle, Grove City, DuBois and Punxsutawney.

The morning session included a class in the Legal Basis for Military Government, and a class in the latest field artillery gunnery procedure, which were conducted by Major Alfred F. Barnes of New Castle. Capt. George Adamson, of Battery B, at Punxsutawney, conducted a class in setting up the battery howitzer by means of the aiming circle.

After dinner at the Penn Grove hotel, the officers re-assembled in the armory, when Col. Mitchell gave a detailed discussion of a battalion standard operation procedure, concerning the required executive's officers reports, forward observer's reports, setting up the observation post, proper placement of the aiming stakes, mission of the liaison officers, security measures against air and ground attack, and other procedures.

Battery commanders were cautioned that key officers and non-coms be trained two and three deep to meet possible emergencies. The next school session will be held at Punxsutawney the last week in May.

Mexican Draftees Don't Leave Home

MEXICO CITY—(INS)—Mexico will make a radical experiment in the training of its conscripts in the national army during 1949, and a saving of more than a score of million pesos is predicted.

The universal military training law will continue to apply but draftees will live at home, wear uniforms only when on duty and eat at home. Their schooling or employment will not be interrupted, and the army will save the hundreds of dollars it costs to keep a man under arms. Once drafted, the youth will take the oath of service and will be given a uniform. He is a part of the military organization and subject to military discipline and the articles of war.

Reports Each Sunday
Every Sunday he must report to the barracks in his area. The country has been divided into sectors where, depending on the density of population, organizations from a squad to a division are established.

Training in rifle marksmanship, use of ground for concealment, military courtesy and discipline, marches and the school of the soldier, all are part of his weekly instruction.

Should the youth be one of Mexico's 10 million illiterates, he must attend two night sessions each week. There his superior officers or a professor designated by them, teach him to read and write. At the end of the year's training, all draftees will take part in the army's general maneuvers.

News bulletins were posted in medieval Venice and persons were admitted to look at them for a coin known as a "gazetta"; hence the modern word, "gazette."

PLAN THIRD FILM ON LIFE OF CHRIST

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — "The Life of Christ" has been announced as the next picture to be produced by Director John Farrow.

Marking the third time that the religious subject has been brought to the screen (all in silent movies), Farrow announced that the picture will have no star names and that the figure of Christ never will be seen on the screen.

The production will not start with the birth of Jesus, but with the beginning of the Bible. The picture will be started next winter.

New City Hall May Be Ready In September

Steady progress is being made in constructing the new city building at Grant and North Jefferson streets, according to Mayor John F. Haven. He hopes that Pa. News's official family, and employees, now in the present city structure, at East Washington and East streets, will be able to move into the new building in September.

The outside of the structure is practically finished, and the general contractor hopes to grade the surrounding area soon. Terrace floors are being laid in the main corridors, and plastering is not far distant. New sidewalks are to be laid in North Jefferson and Grant streets, the mayor reported.

There is a sub-basement, containing the boilers, and a basement which will house the police garage, cell-rooms, detective bureau, squad room, and a kitchen.

The first floor proper will house the treasury department, assessor's bureau, finance office, payroll tax bureau, police courtroom, chief of police, and press room.

The second floor will contain the mayor's office, his secretary's office, and caucus room, all connected together, and various offices of councilmen, excepting that of the finance office, which is on the first floor. The city clerk's office will be located at the front end of the floor. Other offices will be for the sealer of weights, health department and engineering department.

Entering from North Jefferson street, there will be a main entrance which turns to the left, where a stairway will connect first and second floors.

There is an entrance from Grant street into the police department, and an entrance for police at the rear of the building, first floor.

In all there are four stairways to reach different portion of the building.

The treasury department vault has been built, and all that remains to do to it is to hang steel doors.

All of the floors, excepting those in corridors, will be of asphalt tile. The asphalt tile will be laid after all of the plastering work has been finished.

There are several laboratories located advantageously throughout the building.

Cub Scout Leaders To Attend Pow-Wow

Twenty-five cub scout leaders, including cubmasters, den mothers and committeemen of the Lawrence County council have made reservations to attend the cubbers' "Pow-Wow" April 30 at Hubbard Scout Reservation near Pittsburgh.

The Pow-Wow is the cub leaders' big event of the year. It consists of exhibits, midway of skills, blue and gold banquet, ceremonies of all kinds, handicraft, games, summertime activities and pack administration. It is a program of fun and education for all cub leaders.

The Lawrence County council cubbers have been invited to attend the affair by the Allegheny council of Pittsburgh.

The caravan of cars will leave at 11 o'clock on Saturday, April 30.

High Court Ruling Affects Steel Industry

Ruling Of Supreme Court Upholding FTC Ban On Point Basing System Attacked

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—The magazine Iron Age said Wednesday the steel industry has been placed in a difficult position by the Supreme Court ruling this week upholding the Federal Trade Commission's ban on the basing point system.

The national metalworking weekly warned that as a result, unnecessary high freight costs to steel users in a period of heavy demand, or drastically curtailed steel output in some centers when demand falls off, are certainties.

Meantime, it observed that the long and steep drop in scrap prices has ended temporarily at least, this week. The Iron Age steel scrap composite advanced 17 cents a gross ton.

The publication pointed out, however, that increases were not widespread. For example, heavy melting steel at Chicago advanced an average of $1.50 a gross ton, but declined $1 a ton at Pittsburgh.

Iron Age said that steel users who expect that U. S. Steel's revision in its extra charges means an across-the-board steel price cut, are going to be disappointed.

It reported that some will get their steel for less, but that others will certainly pay more.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—President Truman was presented Wednesday with a photographic year book featuring international news photos cameraman Al Muto's prize-winning "Victory Picture" of the chief executive.

The volume was a collection of great news pictures of 1948 jointly sponsored by the Encyclopedia Britannica and the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

Captioned "He Who Laughed Last," the Muto picture shows the president the day after his election victory smilingly exhibiting the celebrated edition of the Chicago Tribune bannerlined: "Dewey Defeats Truman."

The INS picture was adjudged best in the "Spot News" division of the sixth annual News Pictures of the Year Contest conducted by the Encyclopedia Britannica and the University of Missouri.

Muto, who accompanied Mr. Truman throughout most of his 31,000 miles of rugged campaigning, snapped the memorable picture in St. Louis the day after the election.

Muto's award was chosen No. 1 in a worldwide competition which represented the best work of 589 crack news photographers who entered a total of 2,464 pictures.

HIGHWAY PROJECTS

HARRISBURG.—Bids will be opened May 6, on seven projects involving construction of 15.75 miles of highway, two I-beam bridges and a superstructure for a continuous truss bridge, the Pennsylvania Department of Highways announced today. Sixteen Million Veterans Will Receive Benefit

Two Billion Dollars To Be Paid Because Of G.I. Insurance Payments

By EDWIN HOFFMAN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The government is preparing to slice up for 16 million veterans a two-billion dollar pie stuffed with excessive G.I. insurance payments.

This was revealed today by a top Veterans Administration official who said dividend payments on national service life insurance policies "may be possible by the end of this year."

The government insurance experts declare the cuts will depend on the amount, type and length of policy held. He said that dividends average $125 for each person who held NSLI for three months or more during World War II and up through 1947.

Actually, payments will vary from less than a dollar to several hundred dollars. Beneficiaries of G.I.-insured service personnel killed during World War II also are included in the divvy-up.

Hurdles Obstacles

The VA is hurdling many obstacles to launch the tremendous distribution. Thousands of temporary and special employees are being processed and trained to tabulate each policy. The VA also has settled on a media to reach about ten million ex-servicemen holding lapsed policies.

Latest statistics show that only 1,612,450 persons hold permanent NSLI while 5,580,550 retained their war "term" insurance.

After initial payments, the official said that dividends would be paid on an annual basis on premiums paid during the previous year. This would cover those persons who contracted NSLI after 1947. A policyholder's share is to be computed as of the policy's anniversary date and payment made thereafter.

Account For "Kitty"

Numerous factors account for the surplus insurance "kitty" which is hovering "around seven billion dollars." They are:

1. Premiums are based on an antiquated mortality table which surmises a shorter life for the policyholder thereby hiking payments on GI insurance.

2. Congressional appropriations provide for VA Administrative costs and any benefits paid on deaths resulting from war service.

3. The U. S. treasury pays three per cent annually for use of the trust fund or money in the "kitty".

In presenting the status of current NSLI, officials said that face value of GI insurance outstanding is about 4 1/2 billion dollars. Policyholders' payments are running about 390 million dollars annually, and interest from the treasury more than 200 million dollars annually.

Grandson Of 'T.R.' Is Appointed State Commerce Secretary

Named By Gov. Duff, Appointment Is Subject To Senate Confirmation

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—Theodore Roosevelt, III, grandson of famed "T. R." on Wednesday was appointed state secretary of commerce by Gov. James H. Duff.

He is the son of the late Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt who died in France during World War II. Roosevelt was named to the commerce post succeeding Orus J. Matthews, of Philadelphia, who resigned last January.

Roosevelt, a resident of Villanova, is associated with a Philadelphia investment house.

The appointment is subject to confirmation by the state Senate.

Corn, wheat and soybeans, in that order, are the principal food crops in the U. S.

SIX VARIETIES OF EVERGREENS THAT ARE GOOD FOR PLANTING

By OWEN P. FOX

The six varieties of evergreens shown in sketch have proven satisfactory for planting around the home. If given proper care through the years the plants will have a long life of usefulness.

There is one important thing about the care of evergreens. Don't plant them, then retire to your easy chair, trusting to luck that they will grow and thrive. Do not plant your evergreens in sticky clay or waste ground. Newly planted trees should be watered and washed off every week for the first year after planting during the summer, in dry and hot weather established evergreens should be given a good soaking now and then.

As evergreens are heavy feeders they should be given a broad leaf fertilizer in early spring and fall. This will cause the trees to have a hardy growth, and good coloring in the needles.

Keep evergreens in good form by a season trimming once yearly in early spring. Red spider and dust causes great damage to evergreens. A strong stream of water on the trees after the sun goes down will help keep them healthy.

Evergreens need some care before they go into winter. About the first of November give the trees a good soaking, if the roots go into freezing weather dry this causes serious damage to the trees. When heavy snow weigh down the bows, brush off before the heavy weight breaks the branches. When cold air hits the break in the boughs the resin cambium burns up and the branches will die.

THE BROKEN ENGAGEMENT

"Please tell me what should be done to recall formal, engraved invitations to a wedding which has been called off."

Answer: Printed cards, worded as follows, should be sent out:

Mr. and Mrs. James Green announce that the marriage of their daughter Anne Frances to

Mr. Andrew Smith will not take place. The reason for printing is that there is usually not time for the engraving to be done.

Question: (1) Should wedding announcements be sent to those who have attended the wedding as well as to those who were not invited to the wedding? (2) Is it proper to receive felicitations in the ante-room of the church? (3) May wedding gifts which arrive after the ceremony be opened at the reception by the bride in order to extend her thanks to the donors present at the reception?

Answer: (1) They should be sent only to those who did not receive invitations to either the ceremony or the reception.

(2) Yes, it is quite proper. (3) Yes. Open them and thank the donors. But remember that you must also write notes of thanks to donors.

Question: Who should be invited to the rehearsal supper taking place before the wedding?

Answer: All of the members of the wedding party, the bridegroom's immediate family and any other of the bride's friends whom you choose to invite.

The "Whiskey Rebellion" was an uprising in Western Pennsylvania in 1794 against the federal government, occasioned by the attempted enforcement of the excise law on domestic spirits.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CEF

HARRY S. DRAGO, the author, was engaged to write a series of Westerns for a cowboy star. The day Drago reported for work, the star embarked on a wild spree and disappeared from sight. While the studio sleuths were trying vainly to track the star down, Drago did nothing but sit in the sun and draw twelve hundred dollars a week.

After four weeks of this, he sought the producer and protested, "This sort of life is not for me. I'm going back to New York." "Wait," pleaded the producer. "We're closing in on our missing star now. We'll soon have him back. If you must keep busy, I've got a job for you that, as an author searching for human interest stuff, should have appeal. We get women's clubs out here and have to show the members through the studio. It's a must, for these Hokinson characters can kill a picture dead if you offend them. Why not take over these tours?" "Might as well," agreed Drago. He assembled his first group and began pointing out the sights. One dowager pointed to a building he had neglected to mention. "What's that?" she demanded. Drago explained, "That's just a place where we store spoiled film." "Fine thing," snorted the dowager. "The whole country has a building shortage, and you use a fine house like that for the storage of spoiled film." "You don't know the half of it," agreed Drago. "They are also paying me twelve hundred dollars a week just to point it out to you."

DENTAL AUXILIARY DINNER MEETING

Members of the Lawrence County Dental Auxiliary met Tuesday evening, in the home of Mrs. John A. Meehan, 131 Lincoln avenue, for their regular monthly session. Dinner was served at 6:30, at which time Rebecca Morgan provided most delightful piano selections during the dinner hour.

A brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. T. J. McFate Sr., at which time the nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the year '49-'50, which will be voted on at the May meeting. Mrs. A. G. Reynolds, chairman of the tooth brush project, reported the purchase of a new supply of tooth brushes to be distributed to the Margaret Henry Home and to the hospitals. During the social period an unusual and very entertaining game was introduced by Mrs. Meehan for which prizes were awarded to Mrs. Sara Cummings, of Toledo, O., Mrs. P. I. Ginsburg, Mrs. T. K. Heess, Mrs. S. Zaremba and Mrs. W. M. Roberts.

Special guests of the evening were: Mrs. C. H. Muth, of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Sara Cummings, of Toledo, O., Mrs. W. M. Roberts and Mrs. C. A. McKee. Assisting Mrs. Meehan as co-hostesses were Mrs. P. I. Ginsburg, Mrs. E. F. McBride, Mrs. R. H. Gilmore, Mrs. E. Everett and Mrs. J. E. Davis.

S and S Club

Miss Emma Jannetti, 707 E. Long avenue, entertained members of the S and S Club on Tuesday evening.

After a short business meeting the girls spent the evening informally. Miss Nancy Jannetti took candid pictures of the group for their scrapbook. The Misses Grace Geminiani and Helen Iozzi entertained with several ball dances. The club token was won by Helen Iozzi.

At a later hour, the hostess served a delicious lunch, assisted by Miss Frances Capperina. The next meeting will be on May 10, at the home of Miss Capperina, 501 Florence avenue.

W. S. C. S. ENJOYS SPRING PROGRAM

Women's Society of Christian Service assembled in First Methodist church parlors Wednesday afternoon, when the Stephenson circle was responsible for devotions and the program.

Mrs. J. A. Gaiser conducted devotions. Mrs. C. P. Cloak and Mrs. T. A. Grauel offered "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me, O Lord?" a duet by Pfeiffer, with Edwin Lewis as accompanist.

Mrs. W. L. Real introduced Mrs. Everett Spring who spoke on the theme, "Lights From Latin America."

Mrs. Leonard Cramer presided when plans for Christian Advance work of the church were discussed.

A mothers-daughters banquet will feature the next assembly Wednesday evening, May 25, at 6:30 o'clock in the church with the Queen Esther society as hostess.

AT HOME RECEPTION PLANNED FOR COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson, Jr., 905 Highland avenue, will have open house on Friday evening, April 29, for Dr. and Mrs. G. Claude Humble, 439 Court street, for the monthly business meeting. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Jess Joseph.

John Chapman, president, conducted the business meeting during which time the following flower committee was named: Mrs. Walter Hill, chairman; Mrs. Lexie Mitten, Mrs. Ted Corbett and Mrs. Claude Humble. Robert Carnes brought the by-law committee report.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Humble and co-hosts, Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman. The next meeting is planned for May 24 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Corbett, 122 East Fairmont avenue.

O. E. S. CHAPTER HONORS MEMBER

Cathedral chapter No. 440, Order of Eastern Star, held its regular semi-monthly meeting in the east lodge room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Tuesday evening.

The regular procedure for the evening was followed with Mrs. Orville Brown, district deputy grand matron of District 2B of the grand chapter of Pennsylvania, being introduced by the conductress, Miss Irene S. Price, welcomed by the worthy matron, Mrs. James D. Uber, and escorted to a position of honor at the right of the worthy matron. Mrs. Uber then spoke cordial words of welcome to the past matrons of the chapter and also to Mrs. Mary E. Hedberg, a past matron of Ellwood City chapter No. 212, and to Mrs. Helen R. Helting, also of Ellwood City, and to Mrs. Ada McCullough of New Castle chapter No. 105, who were guests of the chapter.

The charter members of Cathedral chapter, who received special invitations to attend the meeting, were welcomed and given appropriate words of greeting by the worthy matron, who credited the chapter's success to their inspiration, vision and earnest endeavor. The worthy matron also expressed her pleasure and appreciation of the large attendance of members at the meeting.

A report was given by Mrs. William Hewitt, chairlady of the service committee regarding their plans to do something for our veterans at Deshon hospital. Members were asked to make candy which will be packed in one pound boxes and taken to the veterans. Mrs. Hewitt also would like donations of playing cards, other games and musical instruments to be used for the purpose.

Mrs. Walter Reneker gave a brief biography of the founder of the Order of Eastern Star, Dr. Robert Morris. He was described as being a gifted poet, a classic scholar and an extensive traveler, who spent much time in Europe and the Holy Land searching for Masonic and Biblical history.

A very impressive obligation ceremony was held and a beautiful floral tribute was presented by ten of the officers. Frank Goodwin, the worthy patron, Mrs. Norman Zeigler, Miss Irene Price, Mrs. Carl Klink, Mrs. Reuben Miller, Mrs. Elmer Gerlach, Mrs. Linden Reneker, Mrs. Frank Phillips, Mrs. Ralph Black and Mrs. Leonard Hayhurst participated.

Mrs. Daniel Rea was then presented and honored for having served as secretary of Cathedral chapter for 11 consecutive years. Mrs. Joseph Phillips, accompanied by Mrs. Harold McConaghy, sang a beautiful solo in her honor after which the worthy matron then addressed the honoree on behalf of the chapter members commending her on her excellent work as secretary, her perfect record of having attended all chapter meetings and officers' rehearsals during the past 11 years, and her habits of punctuality. Mrs. Uber also stressed the high regard of the members for Mrs. Rea and their love for her. Mrs. Theodore Gunnelt, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Thomas Ramsey and Miss Nancy Gosnell then took part in a "Parade Parade" while "April Showers" was played on the piano by Mrs. Harold McConaghy, and Mrs. Norman Zeigler then presented an umbrella and a lovely arm bouquet of "May flowers" to Mrs. Rea as gifts from the chapter. The flowers were held by a large bow of yellow, the color symbolizing Mrs. Rea's faithful service to the chapter.

Mrs. Walter Conover spoke on behalf of the charter members, expressing their respect and admiration for Mrs. Rea, who is also a charter member. Mrs. Conover also praised the honoree for her many virtues and for the sterling quality of her friendship.

Mrs. Della Sanford spoke on behalf of the past matrons, telling of the wonderful assistance, the sound advice and of the many acts of kindness Mrs. Rea had given to the past matrons during each of their terms of office.

A reception was held at the close of the meeting in Mrs. Rea's honor. Mrs. James D. Uber, Mrs. Norman Zeigler, Miss Irene Price, Mrs. Carl Klink and Mrs. Rea were in the receiving line. Mrs. Orville Brown and Mrs. Alex Mathieson, the chapter's first secretary, poured at a table centered with a large bouquet of spring flowers flanked by tall pink tapers and set with lovely silver services. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. Alex Mathieson and Mrs. J. J. Kenehan. Mrs. Charles Gee was in charge of refreshments with Mrs. Albert Piliant as co-chairlady. They were assisted by Mrs. Cecil Potter, Mrs. Frank Phillips and Mrs. David Jones.

PLENTY OF COLORS BUT NARY A RED

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—(INS)—There are now pastel colored mink and blue fox, but possibility of breeding a red canary so far has stumped the experts.

It seems that bird experts have been mating siskins, a small South American bird with brilliant red plumage, with the common yellow canary in the hope of ending up with a red canary.

So far the canaries are turning out peach, orange, copper, apricot, bronze, yellow, white, multi-colored—in fact about every yellow-red hue—but no pure red. Ornithologists have met with another obstacle in their search for the unusual. The little hybrid birds just don't tweet as sweet as the old-fashioned "roller" canary. To get around that the breeders are attempting to train the fancy colored birds to sing the rolling song until it is an acquired characteristic.

There are eight doors in the Navy's super giant transport Constitution, plus 13 emergency exits.

Moon-mapping experiments with radar are being conducted by the Signal Corps at Belmar, N. J. The purpose of the tests is to determine how fast radar signals can be sent.

Women Of Moose Have Anniversary

Twelfth Anniversary Program Is Presented At Moose Home;
Many Take Part

Women of the Moose observed their twelfth anniversary Wednesday evening at the Moose Home, when they gathered for a full course chicken dinner, which was prepared and served by the men of the Moose, at tables beautifully appointed with American Beauty roses, sweet peas and tall lighted tapers.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Gay Shuliff. At the special guests of honor table were seated the five charter members, Mrs. Gay Shuliff, Mrs. Mada Lean, Mrs. Bertha Dangerfield, Mrs. May O'Neill, of Struthers, O., and Mrs. Elsie McClymonds, of Slippery Rock, and the graduate regents, Mrs. Della Miller, Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips Dyll and Mrs. Orpha McConnell. Mrs. Mada Lean, a charter member, is also a graduate regent. Each of these honor guests were presented with a lovely corsage of American Beauty roses and a gift of jewelry. Mrs. Ann Conti introduced the charter members and Mrs. Edwin Fisher introduced the Graduate Regents.

The local chapter of the Women of the Moose was organized with 62 charter members by Mrs. Mary Rae, Mother Organizer and First Senior Regent of the organization, now deceased. They received their charter, March 26, 1937. The organization, now after twelve years, has 176 members and has been active in contributions to the following local organizations: Community Chest, T. B. Society, American Red Cross, local Cancer Fund, and has also sponsored three worthy girl's education as student nurses. They make large donations to the Margaret Henry Home and are active members of the New Castle Hospital Guild. They also contribute to the Danver Fund of Pittsburgh, contributing records to the patients at Deshon Hospital. Once a month a donation is sent by the local organization along with all the other Moose organizations for the upkeep of Mooseheart.

Following the dinner and introduction of guests, a home talent program was presented by the ladies, at which time Mrs. Mabel Schell acted as mistress of ceremonies. The following were in charge of the entertainment for the evening: Mrs. Cleora Krah, Mrs. Clara Hawk, Mrs. Elgin McConnell, and Mrs. Agnes Vignovich.

A new drill team is being formed among the women of the Moose by Mrs. Charles Jamison. New uniforms are to be sponsored by the men of the Moose for the ladies.

A special feature of the evening was when the birthdays of two members Mrs. Alice Clark and Mrs. Ina Cleavelly were honored as a surprise to them both.

Ladies in charge of table decorations were Mrs. Virginia Boyd, Mrs. Cleora Krah, Mrs. Huldah Doerr and Mrs. Ann Conti.

The men who were responsible for the delicious dinner were Harry Schell, Mike Daino, Don Gallagher, Abe Rubies, Charles Jamison, Walter Bixler, William Gorgacz and Leo Thompson.

The next regular meeting of the Women of the Moose will be May 4.

To Receive Honor

PARIS—Mrs. Floyd B. Odum, the former Jacqueline Cochran of aviation fame, gets a preview of the French National Air Exposition Tuesday. She is to receive the French Legion of Honor at the Exposition's formal opening today.

Silk bark is a name given in South Africa to a small evergreen tree which becomes a shrub in arid situations. It is interesting because it yields caoutchouc (natural rubber), the presence of which can be shown by breaking even the dry twigs.

Oceans in the vicinity of the Arctic and Antarctic polar ice caps are less salty because melting ice from these ice caps dilutes the water.

K. Of C. Council Hears Addresses

Tentative Plans Under Way For Another Major Degree Event
In October

Knights of Columbus Council held their meeting Wednesday evening in the East Washington street club rooms, and Grand Knight William J. Howley announced that another major degree will be exemplified sometime in June at Farrell.

Interesting talks were given by the various members. The membership drive is continuing with excellent results being noted. Locally according to reports made, another great major degree event is tentatively slated for Columbus Day, October 12.

During business a contribution was made to the city baseball league.

British Discover 'Bed Of Wealth'

LONDON—(INS)—Britain has just found a "bed of wealth" lying at the bottom of a marshy lake on the mountainous island of Skye off the west coast of Scotland.

On the bed of this lake, where drainage operations will start shortly, there are thousands of tiny fossilized plants which pressed together for millions of years have formed a chalk-like substance known as diatomite.

Diatomite can be used for the manufacture of cattle food, paint, plastic cosmetics and explosives, and the discovery is likely to result in a new industry in Britain.

At the moment there is a world shortage of diatomite. Last year Britain spent thousands of dollars importing 50,000 tons of it from California and Europe at $64 to $72 a ton. In addition more money was to be spent to refine the product in this country.

The diatomite deposits on the island of Skye are to be exploited by a private company known as Scottish Diatomite Limited which has just been granted a 50-year lease on the island lake by the secretary of Scotland.

The White Tower of the Tower of London is the oldest part and was begun about 1078 by William the Conqueror.

Drastic Curb On Taxing Powers Is Aim Of Bill

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—An administration bill drastically curbing the tax levying powers of the commonwealth's political subdivisions emerged unscathed today after weathering an almost fatal assault by House Democrats. House Republican leaders salvaged the measure early today when they whipped defiant GOP members into line to insure Democratic amendments which would have banned wage taxes. The bill, slated for final passage in the House today, would prohibit levies on natural resources, farm and manufactured goods and public utilities. It also would peg local taxes at 15 mills of the total assessed real estate valuations for school districts and 10 per cent for municipalities. House Republican leaders were prepared to allow the measure to die on the calendar last night when scattered Republican support successfully put across the Democratic amendment to prohibit wage levies. But through a legislative maneuver, GOP leaders reconsidered action. Forced rebellious Republicans into line and defeated the proposal for the second round 107-90.

Seek To Preserve Historical Sites

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—The joint government commission will recommend legislation in 1951 to assure safety and preservation of historical sites in Pennsylvania. The senate adopted a resolution introduced by Sen. Israel Stiefel (D) Philadelphia, to present the 1951 General Assembly with a comprehensive program for protection of points of historical value. In approving the resolution the senate requested anyone "owning or having custody of buildings, sites or remains which the commission has deemed of historical value not to destroy, alter or damage such buildings, sites or remains."

Your Rexall Druggist talks to you about PRESCRIPTIONS

A PRESCRIPTION is a very personal thing. Not even a member of your immediate family should use a prescription ordered for you without your physician's full approval. The symptoms indicating a certain illness in your case need not necessarily indicate the same illness in another person. Actually, your prescription could do the other person more harm than good! It is because each of us is an individual that prescriptions are required. Otherwise, out of the great variety of drug preparations available commercially it would even be unnecessary to go to a physician for a treatment. Further, because you are an individual, and your physician deems it essential to order a prescription for you, it is likewise essential that prescription be compounded from fresh, potent ingredients. An experienced Pharmacist, such as we have on duty here at your Rexall Drug Store, should do the compounding to guarantee accuracy in every detail.

The next time you have a prescription to be compounded, remember it is your "Key to Better Health." Bring your prescription to us and we will guarantee accuracy in compounding, potency in ingredients, and reasonable prices made possible by our partnership in the great family of over 10,000 Rexall Drug Stores throughout the Nation.

Cancer Research Funds Allocated

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—Approximately $100,000 has been allocated to Pennsylvania for cancer research in Pennsylvania during the year starting July 1, it was announced today by the Pennsylvania Cancer society.

Since 1945, the society said, $493,013 has been allocated to Pennsylvania for research by the American Cancer society.

Chiropractic Measures Killed

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—Licensing of chiropractors today was a dead issue in the 1949 General Assembly.

The senate majority killed in caucus two measures, submitted by Rep. Wilmer W. Waterhouse (R) Erie, to set up a regulatory board of chiropractic examiners.

DR. MARY DAVIS SHARON SPEAKER

Dr. Mary Baker Davis, New Castle, president of the Lawrence County unit of the American Cancer society, was the principal speaker at Mercer county Health Day program Tuesday at Sharon high school.

At the meeting sponsored by the auxiliary to the Mercer County Medical society, the junior hospital auxiliary and the Mercer county unit of the Cancer society, Dr. Davis outlined early symptoms of cancer and discussed the advantages of early diagnosis.

Her talk, well phrased for the layman, received an enthusiastic round of applause at its conclusion.

W. C. T. U. and L. T. L.

Highland Union Highland W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. F. J. Fox, Northview avenue, April 26, this meeting having been postponed from earlier this month.

Mrs. R. R. McGeorge, leader, chose as her subject for discussion "Civic Betterment" and posed several questions, the first being "The Ballot"—Is it used intelligently? Gambling—state gambling laws: If good, are they enforced? If not good, how may we secure better laws? And should the church "promote gambling?"

Much interest was exhibited in temperance posters made by children of Arthur McGill and Highland schools which were on display in several rooms. Mrs. T. I. Elliott, Mrs. Frank Fehr and Mrs. Howard Gardner served as judges. Names of winners of the awards will be given at a later date.

During the business session, Mrs. Howard Gardner mentioned several bills in which the group is interested. H. R. 2945 would if it becomes law increase postal rates on religious publications. Members are asked to express their disapproval to our representative at Washington, D. C. Members were also asked to write to their representative in Harrisburg opposing bill S-813, the canteen bill, which would open up the sale of liquor in all kinds of clubs everywhere. Also to oppose S. 698 which gives the right to sell liquor at all airports. We favor senate bills 735 and 736 without amendment. These bills give churches, schools, etc. the right to appeal to the courts if a liquor license is granted over protest. Members were also asked to write Hon. Ray L. Riley, Harrisburg, asking him to oppose H. 1007 which bill would permit various sports after 2 p. m. on Sunday.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. William Johnston, who used Mark 11:15-18 verses as the scripture text. Mrs. Thomas A. Gilkey closed the meeting with prayer.

Scotland W. C. T. U. Scotland WCTU met at the home of Mrs. Herman Byler, R. D. 1, Edinburg, Monday evening.

The meeting opened with scripture reading by Mrs. H. J. Kenner, prayer poems by Mrs. Renner and Mrs. Lowery, poem by Mrs. Byler, "The Church or the Bar" and "Advertising for What" by Mrs. Wylie Wallace, "Alcoholism and Public Health" by Mrs. Davies.

After discussion of these subjects the business meeting followed. After adjournment a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Byler and her daughter Mary Alice.

Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Lowery, May 23, on Youngstown road.

BICYCLIST MOLESTS WOMEN Police are searching for a bicyclist, about 15 years old, who reportedly molested two women about 12:25 p. m. yesterday in Monroeville. A good description of the boy and bicycle was given by the women.

Mrs. R. E. Davis Taken By Death

Word has been received here that Mrs. Mary Davis, of Kent, O., wife of R. E. Davis, had passed away at her home, on Wednesday, after an illness. She was a former resident of the seventh ward.

Mrs. Davis is survived by her husband, R. E. Davis; and children: Mrs. Harold Curtis, Mrs. Charles Wetzel, Mrs. Harry Craven and James Davis, all of Kent, O.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 1 p. m., with burial to follow in Kent cemetery.

HURTS FOREHEAD

Frank Cople, three, son of Frank Cople, of 417 Lutton street, fell on glass at his home Wednesday at 2 p. m. and suffered forehead lacerations above the right eye. He was treated in the New Castle hospital and later discharged.

Union Students At State Finals

Eight Contestants At Pottstown For Music And Forensic League Competition

Eight Union High School students are participating in the state finals of the Music and Forensic League, contests at Pottstown Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The group left by school bus Wednesday afternoon accompanied by Principal J. Arthur Turek, Mrs. Helen King, and Mrs. Betty Gibson, members of the faculty.

Contestants from Union who won first places in the county and district contests before going to the finals include Lynn Fowler, tenor solo; Walter Tomon, saxophone solo; Betty Vigne, Shakespeare reading; Larry Hart, serious declamation; Philip Maronda, oration; Jackie Funkhouser, conservation essay; Nellie Vannattan, conservation poster; and Joanne Miller, conservation photograph.

A portion of the group will return Friday night and the rest on Saturday.

FRACTURES ARM

Mrs. Catherine Miller, 205 Holton street, suffered a fractured left arm Wednesday at 4:15 p. m. when she slipped on the wet floor while scrubbing her porch. She was treated at the New Castle hospital and later discharged.

CUTS PALM

John Brophy, son of John Brophy Sr., of 414 Whippo street, was treated for cuts of the right hand, when he fell on broken glass in his home Wednesday morning. He was treated at the New Castle hospital and later discharged.

The Keystone state isn't going to fare as well as in 1949 as it did in 1948 when the Philadelphia Athletics were an early season sensation and the Pittsburgh Pirates stepped into the limelight later to finish a surprise fourth.

Mabel Wilson Lodge To Mark Anniversary

Pay Respects To Deceased Member: To Observe 33rd Anniversary, May 10, With Dinner

In their lodge room on North Liberty street, members of the Mabel Wilson Lodge No. 567 met on Tuesday evening with Mrs. T. J. LaRock presiding. There was a large attendance.

Prior to the meeting the ladies went in a body to pay their respects to a deceased member, Mrs. Mae Keatings.

At the business session, names of new members were presented. It was decided to observe the 33rd anniversary of the founding of the organization on Tuesday, May 10, in the form of a twelve dinner. Chairman of the event is Mrs. William M. King, with aides being Mrs. Jessie Reed, Mrs. W. G. Sapper, Mrs. Joseph Doone, Mrs. George Fisher and Mrs. T. J. LaRock, who will also be in charge of reservations. A grand officer from Columbus will be a special guest. At that time, new members will be initiated.

The birthday anniversaries of four members were celebrated, Mrs. William M. King, Mrs. William McConnell, Mrs. W. G. Sapper and Mrs. Marion Hall. Blanket club drawing fell to Mrs. J. E. McCann of Mt. Jackson. Door prize was captured by Mrs. LaRock. Games of contest were an evening pastime.

A tasty lunch was served by Mrs. George Tribby and Mrs. Lila Thayer. Next meeting, Tuesday, May 10.

Methodists Dine, Officers Elected

Members of the Board of Education gathered on Wednesday evening in the dining room of Mahoning Methodist church, and partook of a splendid twelve dinner, served at 6:30 o'clock. The invocation was given by Mrs. J. A. Waddell.

Lawrence C. Goodwin, Sunday school superintendent, presided over the business session, when the following officers were elected to complete the calendar year of 1949, assistant general superintendent, J. Allan Brettell; treasurer, Miss Ruth Daniels; assistant, Don Sturgis; secretary, Mrs. J. Allan Brettell.

It was voted to contribute 25 cents per member of those from 12 to 23 in the youth's department, this to be handled by the Erie Conference Youth Fellowship, through the local Youth Fellowship. There was a general discussion of status of the Sunday school's progress.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Mrs. Ralph M. Scowden and her aides.

K.J.U. Class Meets With Mrs. J. McCann

Members of the K. J. U. Bible class of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church were entertained on Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. John McCann of Newell avenue. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Ralph Urey.

Business session was in charge of Mrs. Paul Bender. Plans were made for a bake sale in May.

A social period followed. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, with Mrs. Ralph Urey and Mrs. Paul Bender associate hostesses.

Next meeting is scheduled to have Mrs. Arthur Walker of Mt. Jackson road as hostess on Tuesday evening, May 24.

Plan Mothers And Daughters Banquet

At Madison Avenue Christian church members of the Loyal Workers Bible class recently planned to have a Mothers and Daughters banquet in the dining room on Wednesday evening, May 4.

Serving will commence at 6:30 and a program will follow the dinner. Committee of arrangements is Mrs. Victor Flack, Mrs. E. M. Jones, Mrs. Herbert Mullen, Mrs. J. B. Comstock.

League Of Women Voters Has Meeting

League of Women Voters of Lawrence County met in the Rose Room of the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday for its April program.

The North Atlantic Pact, soon to come before the United States Senate for ratification, was the program topic and members heard a short talk on the subject by James Smith of the Senior High School and a member of the Student World Federalists. Questions and informal discussion followed.

Preceding a short business meeting, over which Mrs. R. H. Ramsey presided, a sandwich and salad luncheon was served.

Mrs. Myron Milbourn was a special guest. Luncheon committee was Miss Lillian Hartman, Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Mrs. Lyle Hughes, Miss Marguerite Uhl and Mrs. David W. Nesbit.

It was announced that the State Convention of the League of Women Voters will take place in Lancaster, May 16-18.

Next meeting of the league will be Tuesday, May 24 at the Y. W. C. A.

One building at the Naval Supply Center, Norfolk, Va., has 48 acres of floor space.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 28.—Anyone in the vicinity of New York who would like to buy a used car without recourse to the Smiling Irishman or the Laughing Latt should be able to do business at the United Nations.

When last intimated ten minutes ago, 37 cars, ranging from a relatively new Ford convertible to a venerable four-door Chrysler, were listed for sale on the bulletin board maintained for and by the secretariat of the United Nations.

The word secretariat is, in reality, a five-dollar noun for hired hands or wage slaves. Delegates to the United Nations, who are dedicated to the weighty problem of answering the $64-global question, make the headlines.

Some 3,000 Employees
But it is the secretariat, the harried hired hands—unhoned and unstrung—who absorb the head-aches in the background. There are now approximately 3,000 employees of some four dozen nationalities, who comprise the secretariat toiling in the U. N. vineyard.

They range in race, color and creed, from the diminutive and extremely pretty young Chinese secretaries to suave young Indian aides who speak pure Oxonian, and from Uncle Joe's strong, silent boys to Uncle Sam's blonde belles whom global gentlemen also seem to prefer.

But to get back to that used car lot: It is compressed on a bulletin board, 4 by 5 feet, which hangs in the hall just outside the secretariat's cafeteria.

This board, maintained of, for and by the secretariat, is a cross between the classified ad section and the agony column of say, the London Times. The board is plastered with neat little notices, about 2 by 3 inches in size.

There, where all who run may read, is unwittingly revealed the domestic and financial crises, the advocacies and personal problems of those who wrangle with global matter for money, but got their own troubles, honey.

Run the Gamut
The notices run the gamut from the individual who wants to sell a baby carriage and a large sofa for $60, to a music lover, possibly a recent be-bop convert, who wishes "to dispose of Guy Lombardo recordings dating back to early 'thirties. Most of them collectors' items. Approximately 80. Best offer takes the lot."

The board is covered with items that tug at the imagination, such as "practically new rowing machine to sell. When new, priced was $140. Is sold now for $75. Why does this character, so weak on English, wish to sell his—or her—rowing machine? Has it already accomplished its purpose? Is that Dutch bay window—or that Swedish stenographer's spread—already vanished? Is the need over, is the crisis past? Or did this character just turn out to be too lazy even to work out on the rowing machine?

Some gentleman, probably now growing a beard, wishes to dispose of "Two almost new electric razors for only $20." A girl advertises a "beautiful lynx jacket" for sale. I wonder dreamily if she has worked up to mink or down to rabbit. Probably there is a clue to the ultimate destiny of the United Nations in that one.

Other Wants Made Known
A graduate of the Barcelona Law school wishes pupils for lessons in "literary, technical or legal Spanish." A tennis instructor is wanted "for beginners." A salt, obviously about to give up the sea, wants to sell his "registered snipe sailboat for $400."

An optimistic woman offers "Russian lessons for beginners or advanced students." Everyone wants to join a car pool to get to and from Lake Success, only slightly more accessible than Little America. Everyone wants to sell enough telephone records to equip a tower of Babel.

A young couple driving to Washington, D. C., this week-end would like someone to share driving and expenses.

And then, there are all those used cars for sale. Why so many of the secretariat want to sell their respective autos is beyond me. Maybe it's the HCL in the USA. Maybe it's poker debts, maybe those blondes mentioned above.

Mechanical Computer Good Chess Winner

NEW YORK.—(INS)—An electronic computer which can play chess has been described by a Bell Telephone Laboratories scientist in a technical paper presented at a meeting of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Dr. Claude E. Shannon, the telephone scientist, claimed that the computer could be set so that the proper moves for defeating its human opponent could be calculated. Shannon pointed out that his interest in mechanical chess is purely theoretical. He explained: "By studying the theory of using an electronic computer to play chess, we expect to find solutions to some of our telephone engineering problems."

Marine Auxiliary Members Assemble

Members of the Marine Corps League auxiliary met in the YWCA Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Esther Martin in charge of the devotional and business session.

Special awards were made to contest winners: Mrs. Rose Ross, Mrs. Gertrude Minter and Mrs. Esther Martin. Miss Dorothy Stewart, executive secretary of the YWCA, was a special guest.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Maxine Churazzi and Mrs. Esther Martin, assisted by Mrs. Domenick Flaminio. The next meeting will be at the YWCA May 25.

In their work around the world, Salvation Army workers use a total of 81 different languages.

BERSERK FARMER KILLS 2, BURNS SELF IN HOUSE

SHERIFF'S DEPUTY Paul Seering, standing amid charred ruins, points to a spot where the body of Charles K. Rush was found after the 69-year-old farmer went berserk, shot and killed two law enforcement officers, wounded three persons and then burned himself to death in his gasoline-soaked home near Abilene, Kan. Neither Rush's housekeeper nor his brother-in-law, both of whom were wounded, was able to explain a motive for the shootings. (International Soundphoto)

CANON CITY MAKES BID FOR STUDENTS

CANON CITY, Colo.—(INS)—While other towns make a play for the big-spending summer tourist Canon City is continuing its profitable policy of throwing out the welcome mat for visiting students.

Last year an initial drive by the Chamber of Commerce resulted in the constant sound of school buses from Colorado and neighboring states rolling through the city and across the famed Royal Gorge bridge.

Submerged Peak Not Discovered

LA JOLLA, Cal.—(INS)—The "little mountain that wasn't there" posed a puzzler for the University of Southern California's marine laboratory, the Velero IV. It combed waters off Cabo Falso for a submerged peak reported by meandering fishing vessels to have risen within 40 fathoms of the surface northwesterly of Miguierino, near the southerly tip of Lower California.

After a two-hour search, using electronic fathometers and depth finders, the Velero's skipper, Capt. Allan Hancock, decided the supposed peak rising from the bottom of the ocean just isn't there, has disappeared or was incorrectly reported by fishermen.

Success Hints For Lawmakers

DENVER.—(INS)—What does it take to be a successful politician? This is a question some Republicans have been pondering 20 years and here is a hint which may help. An informal survey of the Colorado 1949 state legislature discloses a majority of the lawmakers have: 1—Receding hairline; 2—poor eyesight; 3—at least 40 years behind them, and 4—are either attorneys or farmers.

Large sphinx moths, which resemble humming birds, feed at eventide.

Helicopter Used For Landscaping

BALTIMORE, Md.—(INS)—Another new utility has been found for the versatile helicopter. This time it's in the field of landscaping.

Rear Admiral Apollo Soucek, in charge of the mammoth Naval Air Test Center, at Patuxent River, Maryland, finds it expedient to take a Sikorsky HO3S-1 helicopter from point to point occasionally.

A professional from a nearby golf course came to Admiral Soucek recently with a landscaping problem. He had scores of men at work, he said, but he wanted to show the Admiral a certain grade before the work got too far along.

When Admiral Soucek and the golfer first drew in sight of the project in the helicopter, the workers were busy leaning on their tools. They were still in this attitude of indolence while the professional stepped down from the helicopter. Then in a quick second take, they recognized him as their boss and suddenly the dirt began to fly.

A few days later the pro appeared at the Admiral's office and stated: "I've made a discovery. Tell your helicopter test pilots to keep flying around our golf course. As long as the helicopters are buzzing around, our workers really dig. They think I'm likely to come down at any time."

The Boston Red Sox are going to depend until further notice upon Walter (Primo) Dropo, the 6 foot, 5 inch rookie.

Quota License Law Unchanged

Legislation To Grant Canteen Permits To Veterans Organizations Defeated

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—The quota license law of 1939 which fails to state flatly whether clubs are within its provisions was undisturbed today after failure of another move to legalize liquor-selling "canteens."

Legislation which would have forced the State Liquor Control Board to grant canteen permits to bona fide veterans organizations even though the quota law was exceeded in the community was defeated last night in the House when its constitutionality was questioned. The quota law authorizes one license for every 1,000 people and contends clubs are within the act; about half of the commonwealth's courts disagree.

Minority leader Hiram G. Andrews (D) Cambria, spelled defeat of the proposal when he raised the constitutional question and was sustained by a bi-partisan vote of 85-87.

Andrews pointed out that the legislation was in the form of an amendment to a Senate-approved bill allowing the LCB to appeal lower court rulings in the superior court and therefore the canteen proposal was not germane to the bill as required by the constitution.

The defeat of the amendment freed the appeal bill and it was advanced for final passage today bearing the endorsement of the LCB.

Rep. George Stuart (R) Allegheny, a veteran of both world wars, led the fight against adoption of the amendment and said the rank and file of ex-servicemen opposed the proposal.

NEWPORT

WCS of Newport Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. John Matus on Tuesday evening at 7:30. There will be an election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith McKim and son spent the week-end with the former's sister and family at Dravosburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Langhaish of Westford, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kennedy and Mrs. Moore of Zelienople and John and Robert McKim were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKim.

William Jenkins of the U. S. army is spending a furlough with his wife and son after being stationed in Alaska for several months.

The average man has three colds a year, and these cost industry approximately 90,000,000 working days.

Seeks To Merge G.O.P. Factions

Scott Seeking To Set Stage For Coming Political Campaigns

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Eighteen months before the 1950 congressional elections the Republican party is shaking off the dust of its 1948 defeat and is seeking to acquire control in Washington by merging three political roads.

The bid for power first will come in the 1950 campaign. It then will expand for two years aiming at the 1952 presidential campaign.

GOP National Chairman Hugh Scott, Jr., already is planning campaigns and setting strategy lines. Scott is trying to merge the three factions of the GOP, and much of the party's future depends on his success. The three groups are:

1.—The GOP "right wing," led by Republican Senate policy maker Robert A. Taft. The strength of this group will be determined to a great extent by the 1950 elections would boost Stassen's stock.

2.—The GOP "center," led by defeated GOP presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey.

AIR FORCE-NAVY BATTLE

The bitter battle between America's two air arms will burst out again soon, and in new fury.

Look for the Air Force to renew its campaign against the Navy's super-aircraft carrier. The new blasts will be based on disclosure that the price of the 65,000-ton flat-top has gone up 65 million dollars.

Air Force advocates will declaim that if the big carrier was a terrible risk at 124 million dollars in view of its vulnerability, it is ridiculous to sink 65 additional millions.

The sky sailors will counter with charges that intimacy between the white House and a prominent airplane builder is causing the Air Force to load up with B-36 bombers.

Naval aviators have claimed right along that the big six-engine B-36 would be a sitting-duck for enemy flyers.

"HIDDEN JOKER"

Industry is up in arms over what it calls a "hidden joker" in the Spence bill which contains President Truman's recommendations for standby price controls, allocation power and authority to expand industrial plants.

In general, the bill proposes a broad program under which the federal government would assume responsibility for maintaining maximum production.

The National Association of Manufacturers claims, however, that the measure also contains the national production council program advanced by the CIO some five years ago.

Under this program, councils composed of management, labor industry to determine how much the industry should produce and how much employment should be provided.

Industry officials long have attacked the CIO proposal as socialistic.

MONEY SQUEEZE

Even though 50 senators, an absolute majority, signed a letter favoring a big program of aid for China, they appear to have almost no chance of getting even a small program for the Chinese Nationalists.

There is no lack of sentiment for opposing the Chinese Communists, but other and more pressing demands are on the verge of throwing the budget out of balance and Chinese aid can't be squeezed in.

The House has just added nearly a billion dollars for home military purposes; the arm-Europe plan is moving forward into uncharted costs; and veterans' pensions and social security expansion must be reckoned with.

Nowhere are substantial cuts being made, and there is no indication that this Congress will vote more taxes.

So the prospect is for a 600 million dollar federal deficit at the end of this fiscal year, and a whopping deficit in 1950 if present trends continue.

Service Star Legion Has Tureen Dinner

Members of the Service Star Legion No. 176 assembled in the green room of the YWCA at 6:30 Wednesday evening and partook of a tureen dinner. There was a good attendance. The invocation was given by Mrs. Mary Vaughn.

The group, upon invitation, toured through the YWCA building.

Mrs. Margaret Fletcher was chairlady of the dinner arrangements. The door prize was captured by Mrs. Della Missey.

Next regular meeting will be May 3 in the YWCA at 8:30 p. m.

House Spy Probers Take Issue With Grand Jury Charges

Deny Congressional Probes Are Hampering New York Grand Jury In Work

WASHINGTON, April 28—(INS)—Three House spy probers took issue today with a New York grand jury declaration that their congressional exposures are hampering government prosecution of espionage agents.

The New York panel, without mentioning the House group by name, contended that publicity by alerting prospective witnesses has hampered its work considerably.

Nixon demanded that the jury cite specific instances in which the committee's open hearings or disclosures have interfered with the court's proceedings. He commented:

"If the cloak of secrecy had been maintained in the Chambers-Hiss case, any unbiased observer knows that the espionage papers never would have come to the attention of the prosecuting authorities."

Moulder, a newcomer to the committee, pointed out that while secrecy is essential to grand jury operations, the House committee is "an entirely different investigating body." He said:

"One of the most important services it can render is to expose the dangers of subversive activities through the publicity given its proceedings and hearings."

Believe Douglas Will Not Lose Eye

LONDON, April 28—(INS)—The U. S. embassy announced today that physicians believe Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas' left eye, pierced by a fish hook several weeks ago, can be saved.

The announcement said that the physicians report slow but marked improvement in the condition of the eye.

The accident occurred when Douglas was fishing off Southampton on a brief vacation. It is understood that he is now allowed to get up from his bed for the first time since the accident occurred.

National Turnpike Is Now Envisioned

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—A national turnpike patterned on Pennsylvania's superhighway was envisioned Wednesday by engineers.

The forecast was made during a meeting of members of the recently-created New Jersey Turnpike authority and the Pennsylvania Turnpike commission at Harrisburg.

They discussed the possibilities of pushing a turnpike from coast to coast—"the like of which the world has never seen"—on the basis of contemplated plans. The ambitious program was endorsed by Gov. James H. Duff.

New Jersey is preparing to build a super road from Alpine, N. J., opposite New York City, to Deepwater near Camden, N. J. It will ultimately be connected, officials said, with the eastward extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike now being built from Middlesex near Harrisburg to King of Prussia in the Philadelphia area.

The original section of the Pennsylvania toll road runs from Irwin in the Pittsburgh area, to Middlesex.

Westward Extension
The westward extension, to run from Irwin to the Pennsylvania-Ohio line in the area of New Castle, Pa., and Youngstown, O., has been programmed to connect with a superhighway planned by Ohio authorities.

Paul Troast, chairman of the New Jersey turnpike authority said he saw no reason why the national turnpike should not be a reality some day.

The work already completed in Pennsylvania plus its extensions and links in Ohio and New Jersey would provide impetus for a national road. Completion of the Ohio Turnpike, he added, would be a big step forward.

Troast said "there is no doubt but what in the very near future the road could be carried across the entire nation and connect the Atlantic and Pacific coast with a band of cement—a superhighway the like of which the world has never seen."

Network of Superhighways
A network of superhighways connecting the east with the midwest was forecast more than a decade ago by the late Walter A. Jones, of Pittsburgh, first chairman of the PTC. The war side-tracked plans.

New Jersey has allocated $85,000,000 for construction of the 130-mile Alpine-Deepwater road. Traffic would be routed over the Delaware river to the King of Prussia.

Troast said the New Jersey road would be started with a "backbone" link but he did not disclose where construction was planned.

"However, with your new eastern and western extensions already underway, and with our superhighway in the very near future, there is no reason why we cannot take this meeting today as the start of a national road the like of which our forefathers never dreamed."

Interstate Cooperation
He emphasized that interstate cooperation would be necessary to accomplish construction of a national turnpike.

Legislative approval of Scranton and Erie Extensions to the Pennsylvania turnpike is anticipated before the General Assembly adjourns this week. The House last night approved the Erie extension with only the dissenting vote of Rep. Francis E. Worley (R) Adams.

The Harrisburg meeting was followed by an airplane inspection trip of the Irwin-Middlesex section by the New Jersey delegation.

Treasury Secretary Urges FRB Be Given Permanent Power

Urged That FRB Be Given Permanent Authority To Invoke Consumer Credit Curbs

WASHINGTON, April 28—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Snyder declared Wednesday that the Federal Reserve board should be given permanent authority to invoke consumer credit curbs.

Snyder told a news conference he is convinced that the nation has enough purchasing power to continue prosperous "for some time to come." He said:

"I've never been optimistic or pessimistic about the future. I have absolute confidence that if we go about our work in an energetic way, we've got the purchasing power to continue in a prosperous period for some time to come."

Snyder said the Federal Reserve board has demonstrated its ability to relax consumer credit curbs when needed and that for this reason the board should have permanent standby powers in the credit field.

Easier credit terms, providing an additional three-month payment period for all installment purchases and lower down payments on household items, became effective at the start of business today.

The credit curbs were relaxed by the Federal Reserve board last week because of declining prices and improved supplies.

The new regulations provide 24 instead of 21 months to pay for automobiles and such household goods as appliances, radios, television sets and furniture.

The down payment on home furnishings is reduced from 15 to 10 per cent but the one-third down payment required on cars still sticks.

Anti-Smog Group Asks Memorial Week

Asks Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer To Set Aside Last Week In October

WEBSTER, Pa., April 28—(INS)—The Webster Society for Better Living, an anti-smog group, today called upon U. S. Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer to set aside the last week in October as "National Smoke Abatement Week."

The group asked that the week serve as a memorial to the 22 victims of the fatal Donora smog of last October.

The resolution is similar to those adopted recently by the smoke abatement league of Hamilton County, Cincinnati, O., and by the Cincinnati City Council.

When Thumbsucking Continues

Most young children suck their thumbs or fingers at one time or another. Though some dentists feel that this is a cardinal sin, most doctors, psychologists and even a good many dentists aren't worried. But if a child of four or five and older continues, it is time to begin to wonder what's the matter.

Just as with babies, older children may continue to seek the satisfaction that comes from sucking because they aren't too happy otherwise. Perhaps they haven't learned to play with other children. They may be disturbed about something at home. In one way or another they are dissatisfied with life. In a few instances, too, it may be just a continued babyhood habit.

Parents interested in helping a child overcome this behavior should have a sympathetic approach. One can try to discover whether there are causes for unhappiness, such as the above, and try to change the situation.

Children may welcome your help in getting over the habit, too, if you don't use a nagging approach. If they have agreed to a signal—unknown to others—that will remind them that they are sucking their thumbs, that may be of real help whatever approach

Police Seek Six Men Who Wrote To Accused Killer

State Police Have Heard From Five Of Eleven Men Who Wrote To Mrs. Brennan

DOVER, Del., April 27.—(INS)—Police today are seeking the whereabouts of six of 11 men who reportedly corresponded recently with Mrs. Inez Brennan, accused lonely hearts slayer.

State Police Chief Herbert Barnes said he has heard from five of the eleven men. All had written "lonely hearts" letters to Mrs. Brennan within the last four months, Barnes said.

Those who have not yet been reached by police and the dates of their last letters are:

John E. Fox, Pottstown, Pa., February 20; John — (last name unknown), Bernville, Pa., March 20; Clarence Story, Camden, N. J., April 11; Emil Schneeweis, Avalon, N. J., April 12; Richard M. Pense, Fort Wayne, Ind., March 28, and Charles Tice, East Lansing, Mich., April 6.

Police believe that most of them can be accounted for, in as much as their last letters to Mrs. Brennan were dated only a few days before her arrest on April 15.

The 44-year-old twice-married divorcee is charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of Wade N. Woodruff, a 67-year-old lonely hearts correspondent from Bedford, Va.

Mrs. Brennan's son, Robert, 15, has admitted firing the shot which killed Woodruff because he thought his mother wanted him to, Barnes said. Two other sons have been held as accessories.

State police said Robert also has confessed to slaying Hugo Shultz, at Epsom, N. H., farmer, at his mother's bidding.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHILLIS BATELLE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—Women's fall shoes will sally forth in plain, checks and men's wear next fall.

American designers will copy a new French fashion trend for matching footwear to frocks.

Lilly Dache is so intrigued by the style that she will open a footwear branch of her fashion salon for the first time, come autumn. She will design pumps and sandals to match most of her high wool garments.

The fabric-covered shoes have one practical touch: patent leather toes.

Czech Military Attache Resigns

Resigns In Protest Against The Political Tendencies Of Soviet Satellite

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—Brig. Gen. Joseph Schejbal, military attache at the Czechoslovak Embassy, resigned Wednesday in protest against the political tendencies of his government, a Soviet satellite.

Schejbal has been in the United States for more than two years with his wife and son Dusan, 14. He remained at his post following the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia although a large number of Czech diplomats resigned immediately.

His resignation is the second within the past few days. Hugo Skala, who only recently arrived as a member of a Czechoslovak economic mission, resigned yesterday after being assured of political sanctuary in this country.

Yacht Hits Reef And Sinks Near Berry Island In Bahamas, 100 Miles East Of Miami

MIAMI, April 27.—(INS)—The coast guard in Miami reported that eight persons were saved after the yacht "Wonder" hit a reef and sank in the vicinity of Berry Island in the Bahamas, about 100 miles due east of Miami, Wednesday.

The survivors were picked up and flown to the Nassau base of a light seaplane from Nassau.

Ownership and home port of the vessel could not be determined immediately.

WILMERDING PLANT TO LAY OFF 500

WILMERDING, Pa., April 27.—(INS)—The Westinghouse Airbrake Co. announced that it would layoff some 500 workers at its Wilmerding plant.

A company spokesman said that a reduction in the shipping schedule was the reason for the move. It is believed that men with less than five years seniority will be let go this weekend.

Previously a report persisted in Wilmerding that the firm was considering laying off about 1,500 men. The report also said that the company would cut production at its airbrake plant some 30 per cent.

About two weeks ago 300 men were dismissed at the Wilmerding works.

ECA Suspends Cotton Shipments To China

ECA Estimates 16 Million Dollars Worth Of Cotton Is Affected By Suspension Order

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—United States economic aid to China is practically at a standstill Wednesday with the suspension of further cotton shipments to the major city of Shanghai.

The Economic Cooperation administration estimated that approximately 16 million dollars worth of cotton, not as yet delivered, is affected by its order indefinitely halting the shipments.

ECA said its action was taken because of the possible fall of the city to advancing Communist armies. The recovery agency added that there are enough materials, $12,671,000 worth of cotton, flour, rice and fertilizer, in Shanghai to care for immediate needs.

ECA China Director Harlan Cleveland said that the order "virtually cuts off U. S. financed cotton to China" since Shanghai receives the largest share of the shipments.

As a result of Communist victories in recent months, Cleveland said ECA has now been forced to trim its program from operations in seven areas to activities in Taiwan, formerly Formosa, and Canton and limited to Shanghai.

Future ECA spending for China, he said, will center on purchases of rice, fertilizer and petroleum and smaller quantities of cotton.

Cleveland declared that it had been estimated previously that continuance of the air program would cost about 20 million dollars a month but he indicated the fall of Shanghai would cut that figure in half.

ECA's policy is to stop aid immediately to areas under Communist domination.

Princess Margaret Greeted In Naples

NAPLES, April 28.—(INS)—A crowd of more than 800—including 200 newsmen and photographers, cheered Princess Margaret Rose Wednesday on her arrival at the Naples Airport.

Neapolitans said it was one of the largest press delegations ever to welcome a distinguished visitor to the southern Italian city.

The 18-year-old daughter of King George of England, in Italy for a four weeks visit, said: "Naples looked wonderful from the air and Mount Vesuvius is truly more magnificent than any description."

Margaret Rose, clad in a smartly-tailored grey suit with white lapels, was welcomed by the mayor, the military and naval commanders, and the British ambassador.

Jury Finds Mason Company
Entitled To Fee For Sale
Which Was Not Consummated

OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

Robert Mason, a realty agent was awarded $1600 by a jury in court room number one for commission on a sale never consummated.

Mr. Mason sued Joseph and Luigi Lagnese for $2500 the alleged was due for the sale of the Town Pump. He claimed he was to make the sale, give the defendant $21,000 and all over that he was to keep as commission. He claims he arranged for a sale at $23,500 but the defendant refused to go through with the deal.

The jury found for Mr. Mason and awarded him $1600.

Christ's entry into Jerusalem.
"Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord."—Mark 11:9.

Scripture—Mark 11:1-11, 15-18; Luke 19:29-48

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

We have all witnessed or taken part in a welcome to our city of a famous person. It may have been the president of the United States, a distinguished foreign visitor, a war hero who has won our love and admiration for his part in the victory, or an adventurer home after performing a great feat—such as Charles A. Lindbergh after his solo flight across the Atlantic.

People come from every section of the city to applaud. We clap our hands, scatter ticker-tape or confetti on the car in which he is riding, wave flags to show our admiration.

Today's lesson tells of Jesus' great day, when He made His triumphal entry into Jerusalem to the Hosannas of the populace who hailed Him as the Messiah.

Jesus had spent the night at the home of His close friends, Mary, Martha and Lazarus, where He was always sure of a welcome and understanding. He arrived Friday evening from Jericho, spent Saturday, the Sabbath, there, and started for Jerusalem on Sunday.

"And when they draw nigh unto Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the Mount of Olives He sendeth two of His disciples, and saith unto them, Go your way into the village that is over against you; and straightway as you enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied whereupon no man ever sat; loose him, and bring him."

Without question or hesitation, the two entered the village, found the colt so tied, and took him. To some who questioned their act they simply answered, as they had been told, "The Lord hath need of him."

When they returned with the colt, Jesus laid their robes upon him. Jesus mounted, and they proceeded on their way with one vast

Buffalo Resists Disease Injection

Hoof And Mouth Disease Inoculating Team Attempts To Give Serum To Buffalo

MEXICO CITY, April 28—(INS)—The U. S.-Mexican Hoof-and-Mouth Disease commission—which has jabbed needles into cattle all over Texas and Mexico—has been buffeted by a buffalo.

The commission's inoculating team Tuesday started vaccinating animals in Mexico City's Chapultepec Zoo.

The zoo director, fearful that his buffaloes might suffer "nervous shock" if forcibly captured and vaccinated ordered a halt to the proceedings.

A special cage will be built so that the buffaloes can be approached stealthily and given their doses of serum.

WEAR ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS WITH SPRING COSTUMES

According to fashion experts, artificial flower trimmings have returned for costume wear this spring. These flowers are making their appearance along with the earliest spring blooms in the garden.

These artificial flowers will focus around the plunging or scooped necklines. There is a wide variety of flower accessories which add interest and glamour to spring and summer clothes.

Carnations ring the bell as a favorite flower this spring, without interfering with the regal position held by the rose. Violets will be found often in many new shades to match other accessories.

Wheat and straw combined with flowers will offer a new look in floral trimmings. Miniature bouquets and natural flower sizes are predicted as favorites over very large sizes.

Here are some flower ideas which homemakers may want to try. Wear stick pins with artificial violet heads in groups on collars, lapels and pockets.

Wear a flower cluster at the waistline with matching flower earrings. Try wearing a flower carnation or rose on an adjustable grosgrain ribbon tie with a sheer blouse, or wear it close around the neck with a high or low cut neckline or a bare-top dress.

Hats, handbags and belts of straw also offer many possibilities for using floral accents.

CLEAN-UPS HELPS MAKE FARM SAFE

Along comes spring and with it, new foliage and rains that wash everything clean? Why not join with nature in making things more presentable by conducting a clean-up campaign on every farm? It is a well-known fact that places kept well painted and orderly have fewer accidents than the neglected ones.

A spring clean-up will make the farm a better and safer place to live. It is time to clean up and put things in order. It focuses attention on winter's accumulation of any debris and trash, in nooks and crannies from basement to attic, from kitchen to field.

In the home removal of accumulated papers and other discarded materials will contribute to fire safety as well as better appearance. Keep stairways and steps in repair and well lighted. Label medicines and keep them out of the reach of children. Carpet tacks carelessly left within reach of a young child cause needless panic and suffering.

CHECK ON DAIRY BREEDING URGED

A careful check on dairy cattle bred for fall freshening before turning them out to summer pasture, has meant a difference of

Some dairy farmers call in a veterinarian to determine whether bred cows actually are with calf. Animals not with calf and failing to come in heat need veterinary treatment.

Such checks mean the difference between a winter board bill of $50 to $75 and income over feed cost of $200 to $300. Too often bred heifers and dry cows are turned out to summer pasture and go almost unnoticed until near their expected freshening, only to discover they are not with calf.

DEFINITE PLAN REDUCES HOUSECLEANING DUTIES

Modern homemakers find that efficient methods of performing home cleaning duties make the work less tiring and save them time and energy.

Two essentials for efficient management of this work are careful planning and then careful carrying out of the plans. For experience and observation, the homemaker soon learns how much time daily tasks will require.

Make a list of the regular and seasonal duties. It will help in planning the schedule. After making a schedule, aim to carry it through. There will be interruptions and unexpected things coming up, but a work schedule will give an opportunity to adapt the homemaker to her daily job.

A few suggestions are given to aid in making this plan work. Try to get a cooperative spirit among all members of the family. The person who comes in with muddy boots and drops his coat and hat on the nearest chair is making extra work necessary to keep the house clean and tidy.

Select the right methods of work with proper tools and supplies. Check often to see that correct posture is used for working. A cleaning closet where everything can be arranged conveniently is a big help. A basket of cleaning supplies that may be taken from room to room saves steps.

Label the contents of the basket which may include furniture polish, wax, soap jelly, household ammonia, kerosene, and soft cloths. Remember to keep all oily or waxing cloths in metal or glass containers.

FOLLOW THE CROWD TO 30 W. WASH. ST. PAUL'S ARMY AND NAVY STORE

IN THE OPEN

The driving wind hurled a ponderous parade of cumulus clouds across the April sky. Between these darkening interruptions the country roadway lay bathed in warm sunlight and the open woodlands to either side spread great flowery mats in the path of the approaching Mayday. I drove along slowly seeking the proper spot to hike back through the trees. Suddenly a thimble darted across the road and vanished over the bank with a defiant churring whistle.

This seemed to be a good omen. I parked the car against the hillside and followed the pert little fellow down the steep bank through the trees. A glistering black crow got up stealthily from a refuge dump and made off silently down through the ravine below. The undergrowth was redolent with the heady perfume distilled by myriad Spring-beauty blossoms. Occasionally the veering wind also freighted the unhappy aroma of the flowers well above the leaves, and displaying some full-blown blooms that were a beautiful deep brownish red in color.

Beauty Outweighs Drawback This was the "trillium erectum" or ill-scented wake-robin. I find that the beauty of the deep burgundy blooms far outweighs their olfactory drawback. Also on this same bank bloomed another trillium which I tentatively identified as the rare nodding trillium, but would hesitate to guarantee this identification. The small white flowers on a recurved stem sometimes curl clear under the leaves.

The bloodroot and the hepatica have nearly called it a day, and are closing up shop until arrival of yet another Spring. Now the crumpled leaflets of the wild ginger are pushing above ground, with the odd little flower cup already doing business close against the loam.

I ran into some bird activity further down the ravine. Despite the rather heavy wind, the little fellows were bustling about and I found another lazy vantage point where I could loaf and watch and invite my soul. A gorgeous cardinal came down from the undergrowth to bathe and splash about with great enjoyment in a sunlit pool. The water thrush finally revealed his nervous self, teetering about in high dudgeon at my violation of his remote sanctuary.

Timothy Was Busy A busy tufted timothy housewife found nesting material of much interest at a spot in the leaf mulch just below me. She made trip after trip, picking up great beak-fuls of what appeared to be dark cobwebs. She carried these through the trees to a point some thirty feet up in an aging beech.

I took a leisurely course down through the timber to the wide creek in the broad valley below. My path led through great drifts of Spring beauty, and a plentiful supply of the downy yellow violet so common to rich woodlands. On the bottom by the creek the early buttercup had opened its one-inch saucers to the sun. Here also the wild blue phlox displayed its fragrant clusters.

Hindered By Waterfalls The going was hindered by wind-falls, but I made a tour of the creek bank, finally arriving at a point opposite the flat where the rare wild hyacinth holds court in mid-May. I was wearing hiking boots and in order to cross the rifle to the hyacinth station I had to roll up trousers legs to the knee and wade gingerly through the chill water. Blooming amid the leafy "quash" patches were the beautiful bell-shaped blossoms of the polemonium known as Greek valerian.

I waded back through the stream, pausing to watch a blue-gray gnat-catcher feeding in the tangled branches of a windfall. Via the willing auto I made a tour of several nearby stations, noting in full April pageantry the lovely Virginia bluebells, the Dutchman's breeches and squirrel corn, the early saxifrage and both yellow and white trout lilies. The final stop of the flower-filled afternoon was at the tiny station of collinsia, or Blue-eyed Mary, which has so far been spared by coal stripping operations in the valley below the house.

SASSY FRASS. In England a bureau was a writing table or desk with drawers. In America it is used to signify any chest of drawers.

Old Army Base Becomes A City

SALT LAKE CITY.—(INS)—Construction is due to begin late in March on the first group of new homes at Kearns, Utah, the proposed city-to-be which already has a past.

Kearns is a 1,200-acre area a few miles southwest of Salt Lake City which has paved streets, water, sewer, and power systems, and several large warehouses, theaters and churches.

Now it has no inhabitants, but once it was the "home" of thousands of GI's stationed permanently or momentarily at the Kearns Air Force Replacement Depot.

Two New York industrialists have set out to make it a new city. S. D. Caplan, manager, and Arthur Caplan, president of Standard Surplus, Inc., acquired the site when the War Assets Administration disposed of it. The multi-million-dollar installation went to a high bid of $287,000.

Plans call for a wide variety of homes, with the first 500 to be completed during 1949. And as homes are added parks, cultural areas, schools and shopping centers will be developed.

The utility system already available at the former base are capable of serving an estimated population of from 30,000 to 50,000 people.

Ex-Cobbler Now Leading Reds

ATHENS.—(INS)—Sleek-haired George Vrontos has inherited the title of generalissimo of the Greek Rebel "Democratic Army" at the age of 38.

This is only one of the twin posts formerly held by dethroned Vapiades Markos. The other, the premiership of the "Provisional Democratic Government," has been taken over by ex-barber Yannis Ioannidis.

The "youthful generalissimo" is of peasant stock and hails from the small town of Sirrakia, in Epirus.

He made his debut in life as a cobbler in the neighboring town of Yannina.

Coming to Athens, he joined the Communist Youth League whose head was then Nikos Zachariadis, later to become supreme boss of the Greek Communist Party.

His position as one of Zachariadis' trusted lieutenants during the infancy of Greek communism earned him quick promotion in the "Democratic Army." He was in command of a rebel division when Markos fell into disfavor.

Vrontos has not the slightest military training. But five years as a guerrilla have taught him all that a guerrilla "generalissimo" need know.

"Shibboleth" was the test word used by the Gileadites under Jephthah after the victory over the Ephraimites (Judges 12:6). The latter could not pronounce the "sh" but said "shibboleth," betraying themselves.

Beveled scissors were used in the old, beard-wearing days to trim square beards. Straight scissors produced curves in the hirsute ornaments.

Quits Shanghai

VICE-ADM. OSCAR C. BADGER

LED BY Vice-Adm. Oscar C. Badger (above), on his flagship Eldorado, the entire U. S. fleet has departed suddenly from Shanghai, abandoning plans for the evacuation of 2,050 Americans there. The warships left, it was declared, to escape a Communist trap threatening to cut Shanghai's only water outlet to the sea. (International)

Spain Entertains 20,000 Children

MADRID.—(INS)—The first contingent of some 20,000 destitute European children have arrived in Spain for six months vacation.

This group consisted of 500 Austrian boys ranging in age from six to 11 years.

A group of 800 destitute Austrian girls also are expected to enjoy Spanish hospitality this month and 500 German girls will be welcomed a few weeks later.

The expeditions are organized by the charity section of Spanish Catholic Action. A 5 centime tax has been imposed on all inland mails in Spain to defray official expenses of the visits.

On arrival, the children will be concentrated at Pamplona pending their distribution among families who have expressed willingness to provide for the youngsters during their stay.

German, Swiss and French charitable organizations are cooperating in the transport of the young visitors to and from Spain.

ARRESTED IN TEACHER'S SHOOTING

UNDER ARREST at Arthur, Ill., are Glen Phillips, 11 (left), and Lloyd Titus, 16, in shooting of Mrs. Mina Donahoe, 52, school teacher. Moultrie County Sheriff Glenn Braden (right) said the boys admitted wounding Mrs. Donahoe while attempting to steal her purse preparatory to running away with her car after they were punished for passing notes back and forth. Good Taste By FRANCINE MARKEL

DUTCH TREAT

"When one woman asks another to lunch or dinner at a restaurant, don't you think the one who suggests the meal should pay the check in full? Recently, I received such an invitation and was surprised when given my share of the check. Not that I objected to paying my share but it did seem odd to me. When I invite anyone to lunch or dinner, the expense is on me. Perhaps I'm old-fashioned."

Answer: This is the era of the Dutch Treat, especially among women. And a good thing, too. Business girls meet daily for lunch, dinner or an evening movie. Each girl pays her own check, since each one is a wage-earner and knows the value of a dollar and the hard work connected with the earnings thereof. As I watch men fumble over restaurant checks, I realize how sensible we women are in having the "Dutch" understanding.

Of course, sometimes we owe hospitality or would like to repay a favor to a woman friend. In such cases, we take her check and no matter how insistent she is on paying, we decline her offer. But the casual "how about meeting me Tuesday for dinner and a movie" indicates a Dutch Treat, so prepare to bear your own expenses. A very sensible idea, too! Don't you agree?

Question: Sometime ago I gave my former fiancée a large, expensive photograph of myself. Now I am married to someone else and wonder if I might ask for the return of my photograph. He has not offered to return it.

Answer: It is in order for you to ask for the return of the photograph. Actually, when an engagement is broken, all valuable gifts and photographs should be returned.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

PATCH PROFIT

BOSTON.—Money grows on aprons at Boston University co-eds at the Sargent School of physical education. Aprons "patched" with dollar bills to the tune of more than $100 have been received by the co-eds, who had sent them to their parents for "patching" in connection with the school's drive for a $1,000,000 building fund.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—If you can read this, you can't be a "mummy" in a sideshow here. A new city statute bans peep-shows of persons buried alive and except in bona fide theaters you can't be exhibited as being dead, or just lying in a casket, unless you really are dead.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 27.—Americans go to college nowadays to become morticians, bartenders, barbers, taxidermists, chiropractors, rumba experts and beauticians. But no American in this generation willingly studies to be a shepherd, a job that can be learned on the cuff from any old timer in a few easy lessons.

Learned, that is, if a man is a misogynist who likes solitude, solitaire, sheep and his own cooking. This is a hard combination to come by. Some American men like solitude, some like solitaire and some even can abide their own cooking, but hardly any develop a toleration of sheep en masse.

As a result, the United States Congress has just labored and brought forth a bill to enable 48 Basque shepherders, now plying their trade in Nevada, to remain in the United States and become citizens without further shennanigans from the Immigration Service.

Looms As Major Crisis

Nevada, like the rest of the sheep-raising west, is so desperate for sheep chaperones that the threatened loss of even 48 men willing and able to baby-sit with sheep looms as a major crisis. This congressional absorption with Basque shepherders interested me no little. I grew up in Boise, Idaho, which had, I believe, the largest Basque colony outside the Spanish Pyrenees.

The Basques, an ancient people whose racial beginnings are lost in the mist of time, are not much given to wandering from home. But a trickle of immigration began three or four generations ago, with the trickle heading straight for Idaho where the lovely, jagged mountains reminded the men of their own Pyrenees.

Also, there were sheep in them thar hills. And if it is possible to love an animal with the I.Q. of a sheep, the Basques do. Even three or four generations ago in Idaho, it was difficult to twist a native arm long enough to twist its owner to herd sheep.

Lonely Life At Best

At best it is a lonely life, with men going into the mountains for months on end with their flocks, a dog or two, a sack of flour, a can of baking powder, coffee, a side of bacon, a bedding roll and a Sears Roebuck catalogue, the traveling library of the sheep country.

The Basques were ready-made for the job. They asked only a subsistence wage and a certain percentage of the lambs each spring. Sheep owners were charmed. What they entirely overlooked was the fact that within ten years, the Basque usually owned a flock as large as his employer and quit to become an American sheepman and capitalist.

Gradually, the Basques spilled over from Idaho into other sheep raising states, notably Montana and Nevada. Many have become substantial flock masters, among the largest in the west.

Always they have been hospitable, honest, industrious, proud as Lucifer and graceful as fauns. In a nation composed entirely of immigrants and their descendants, the Basques have added a small but rich strain.

Chief Social Event

The chief social event in Boise today is the annual shepherders ball, staged between Christmas and New Year's by the Basque colony. It is comparable to the debutantes cotillion in New York and the St. Cecilia ball in Charleston, with the single exception that the tickets are harder to come by.

Basques from all over the west attend. The dance, in true Basque tradition that no party is worthy of the name that doesn't last 48 hours, is usually good for two days. Then, before the shepherders depart for another lonely year in the mountain fastnesses, there is a farewell dance.

It usually takes Boise about six months to recover.

Pittsburgh Man

Begins Sentence On Murder Charge

PITTSBURGH, April 28.—(INS)—Carlton Jackson, 22, of Pittsburgh, today began a four-to-eight year term in the Allegheny County workhouse for his part in the slaying of a southside watchman.

Jackson pleaded guilty yesterday before visiting Judge J. Frank Gruff.

Joseph Staub, 62, the watchman, died in the Southside hospital Jan. 9, the day after he was found unconscious in a shack adjoining the Calig Steel Barrel Co. plant where he worked.

Another man involved, Sherman Smith, faces trial at a later date.

The Month Of May

(By J. WILLIAM NEYMAN)

May is the best loved of all the months of the year. It is a delight to all nature lovers. It is the month when nature, which seems so dead, is resurrected. Trees are budding into beauty, gardens are waking at the call of the sun and the air is full of the song of birds. All nature bursts into the newness of life and beauty. According to Chaucer, May is the season that is to last forever in heaven.

May is the fifth month of the year but in the old Roman calendar, it was the third. According to the Indians it was the planting moon. In May the spirit of spring reaches its high tide.

The name May comes from the Goddess Maia, the goddess of growth, which according to ancient mythology was the daughter of Atlas the mother of Hermes.

Always Gala Day

The first day of May has always been celebrated as May Day or the opening of the warm season. It was celebrated especially in England by the crowning of the most beautiful girl in the village as May Queen and by dancing around the Maypole decorated with ribbons and flowers. These festivals were promoted by the charm of the month.

In this country young people have long hung May baskets on the first day of May. They may be plain or costly, but all filled with flowers of May and express more eloquently than words the donors honor and love to the one at whose door they are placed.

But the tall Maypole covered with flowers and bound with ribbons of different colors express the exuberant joy of May Day. May will never grow old. With each returning May there is the same thrill of fragrant flowers and balm air and there is the same vigor of youth.

Two Notable Days

May brings us two of our holidays: Mothers' Day, the second Sunday of the month. Mother's Day was first observed by Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia in 1907 in honor of her mother. The appropriateness of the service was soon recognized and has grown in favor and today it is quite generally observed. A red rose is worn in honor of mother if she is living and a white rose if dead.

This year marks the eighty-first anniversary of the establishment of May 30 as Soldiers Memorial Day. On May 5, 1868, Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued a general order to that organization designating May 30 of the year for the purpose of strewing flowers and otherwise decorating "the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country." He expressed the hope that the observance might be "kept up from year to year while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of the departed comrades." It is now one of our cherished holidays.

Many events of interest have occurred on the month of May. Byrd's flight over the North Pole 1926, Lindbergh's flight over the Atlantic 1927, the Red Cross founded in 1870, South Carolina ratified the Constitution 1788, Rhode Island 1796, and Minnesota 1850.

The moon phases for the month 1949 are first quarter 7, full moon 14, last quarter 21, new moon 29. The month natal stone is the emerald. The flower for May is Hawthorne.

GARDEN NOTES

Early growth of vegetables can be stimulated by feeding a balanced plant food. Don't give them too much as this will force an unnatural growth in young plants.

Any reseeding and sodding jobs in the lawn should be taken care of as early as possible. New grass should be given every chance to sink its roots deep into the soil before summer.

Hardy perennials, such as phlox, day lilies and valerians, can be lifted, divided and replanted as soon as the ground is in condition to work.

Guard against disappointment in bloom from peonies by spraying with Bordeaux mixture as soon as the first growth appears in the spring. This early spray prevents botrytis, which blasts buds before they open.

To keep a rhubarb bed flourishing over a period of many years, discontinue pulling the stalks after eight weeks.

Flower beds and borders should be given a careful but light spading. Overcrowded clumps of late-blooming perennials can be divided now.

Dungaree shirt procurement for the Navy in 1940 was only 150,000; 1942—1,000,000; 1945—20,000,000.

Mt. Jackson Girls Sew Faust Costumes

Mt. Jackson School Makes Preparations To Present 'Faust' On Friday, May 13

When women think of spring, they begin longing for new hats, dresses and coats. But Mrs. Irwin Stunkard and the Mt. Jackson home economics girls haven't had time to make themselves fine clothes, because they have been very busy sewing 16th century costumes for the high school chorus' presentation of Gounod's opera "Faust" as adopted by Harvey Loomis to be given on Friday May 13.

Faculty advisors for other committees are: Miss Jeanne Covert, publicity and programs; John Laughner, stage; Mrs. Paul Reed, scenery; Francis Webster, dances, and Charles McCullough, posters.

Mrs. Anita Scott is directing the music and Miss A. Martha Matthews has charge of speech. Faust, unsuccessful alchemist, finally gives in to the devil's temptations for pleasure on earth and pledges his spirit to Mephistopheles. The latter takes Faust to the village where Margarita lives, whom he had seen in a vision. The people are dancing preparatory to the departure of Valentine and his soldiers. The fiend uses Margarita's name irreverently, and Valentine grabs his sword to protect her but the devil has cast a spell over it, causing the weapon to fall useless.

Expect 250,000 China Refugees

Hong Kong Constructs Big Camps For Purpose Of Taking Care Of Them

HONG KONG, April 28.—(INS)—British officials in Hong Kong today ordered construction of temporary camps to shelter an estimated 250,000 refugees expected from China.

Royal Air Force planes were alerted for air evacuation of the remaining British nationals in Shanghai—estimated at less than 4,000.

Planes and ships continued to bring refugees from Shanghai to the British Crown colony. A half a dozen airlines are operating around the clock between Shanghai and Hong Kong. Each plane arriving in Hong Kong is jammed to capacity.

One British and two Dutch steamers arrived from Shanghai today, carrying, among other passengers, Jesuit monks and nuns fleeing from the path of the advancing Communists.

The refugees pay in either gold bars or silver dollars for their plane and ship passage. Hong Kong itself, now the operational headquarters of the British Far Eastern fleet, is without warships in its harbor except for the destroyer consort, damaged by Communists last week, which is undergoing repairs.

Tifereth Israel Friday Services

Religious services will take place this Friday evening, at 7:45 p. m. at Tifereth Israel Synagogue. Rabbi Jules Lipschutz will officiate at the services.

The Junior Congregation of the Religious school will meet for their monthly service on Saturday morning, April 30 at 10:30 a. m. The regular assembly exercises on Sunday morning at the Sunday school department will be dedicated to a special Sabbath program for the children.

Parent-Teachers

Rose Avenue

Rose Avenue P. T. A. met Tuesday evening, in the Rose Avenue School for their regular meeting. Mrs. Harry Davis, president, presided, opening the meeting with all praying the Lord's Prayer. This was followed by the singing of "American the Beautiful."

Election results were: president, Mrs. Samuel Rashid; vice president, Mrs. Max Stadfeld; second vice president, Miss Lucille Lutton; secretary, Mrs. William McKee; treasurer, Mrs. Chester Rowe.

A report of the P. T. A. Conference held in Pittsburgh April 23, was given by Miss Ada Tilia, Mrs. Horace Tressler and Mrs. Harry Davis.

Mrs. John O'Neill, program chairman, presented three students from Rose Avenue school in an instrumental trio, composed of John Carroll, clarinet, Jerry Navarra, accordion and Philip Fava, drums. Miss Angela Fava, former student at Rose Avenue also pleased with several accordion numbers.

Elmer Tinstman of the Pennsylvania Power Company gave a very instructive talk on modernized lighting for schools and also showed slides of various schools in the country where new lighting equipment had been installed.

Delicious refreshments were served by the social committee. Next meeting will be Tuesday evening, May 23.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

After the car he is alleged to have driven, struck a truck driven by Emory Hambrick, West North street, at Grant and Shenango streets, at 1:35 a. m. today, police arrested and charged John Daily, of 24 East Moody avenue, with driving while intoxicated. The charge was made by Police Chief R. D. Hanna before Alderman C. L. Mantz.

KILLING RATS AT DUMP

George Sigler, policeman in the city's sanitary division, has commenced the task of killing rats at Cascade street dump.

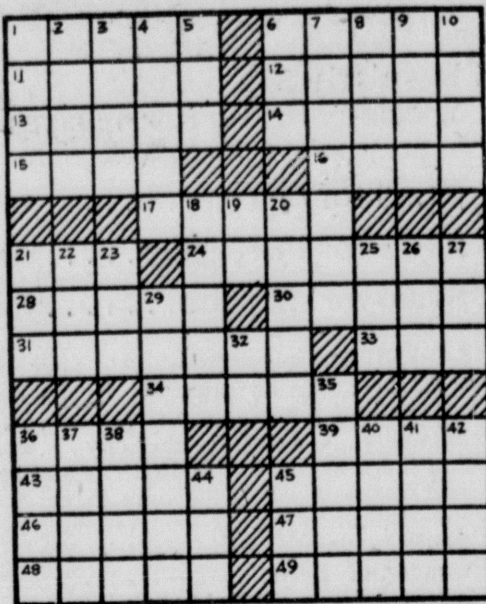

He has made "feeding stations" for the rats, and over the "feed" he has placed poison.

Slippery Rock Auxiliary Meets

Auxiliary Of Volunteer Firemen's Association Meets In Fire Hall

Slippery Rock Township Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary had its semi-monthly meeting in the firemen's hall at Princeton, Monday evening, with the vice president, Mrs. Stella Verna, presiding.

It was announced by the social committee that a nice sum was realized from the womanless wedding, which was held recently in the hall. A new social chairman was appointed for the next four months, Mrs. Margaret Leathers being named.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Rosebelle Young and Mrs. Stella Verna.

The next meeting will be on May 9, when Mrs. Bess Weingartner and Mrs. Margaret List will be the hostesses.

Temple Israel Friday Services

Regular Sabbath services at Temple Israel will be conducted Friday evening at 8 o'clock with Dr. Iwan J. Gruen in charge.

In observance of Jewish History Week, Dr. Gruen's sermon will be on the subject, "Twenty One Hundred Years Ago."

Saccharin is several hundred times sweeter than common cane or beet sugar. It was first prepared in 1879.

Oil City Manager Feels Confident

Otto Denning, Oil City Pilot, Says "We're Ready"

For New Castle
OIL CITY, Pa., April 28.—Oil City manager, Otto Denning, starting his second season as field boss of the Middle Atlantic League club, feels that his team will be much stronger than the outfit he inherited mid-way through last season, but how much stronger he did not care to state.

"The Chicago White Sox, our parent club, have given us some good looking material to work with this season, and after careful study—I do believe we will be much stronger than this time last year," Denning said.

As a parting shot, he shouted: "We'll be ready, and might surprise have on display."

Protector White Addresses Sportsmen

Union Township Junior Sportsmen To Participate In May 14 Contest

Fish Protector Clinton B. White Tuesday evening gave a vivid address concerning his activities and experience to 80 members of the Union Township Junior Sportsmen at Union Township High school, of which Wilbur Patterson is in charge.

The rod and reel was awarded to K. S. Clark, English avenue.

Plans are arranged for May 14 when the group will hold a live trout contest along Slippery Rock creek. First prize for the most trout caught and released will be an automatic fly reel; second prize, a dozen streamer flies, for the largest trout caught on artificial bait.

The principle behind the contest is to impress the junior sportsmen with the idea of conserving future fishing through the return to the creek of the trout.

BETHANY THINCLADS DEFEAT GENEVA

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 28.—(INS)—Bethany College today held an easy 74-23 to 55-13 track victory over Geneva College in the first dual meet of the season for Geneva.

The Bisons captured all track events except the mile, which was taken by Geneva's Joe Caskey. The Bisons also won three of the six field events.

DUQUESNE TOP ROCKETS

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., April 28.—(INS)—Duquesne University's golf team today held their 10th straight victory in two years after whipping Slippery Rock teachers yesterday 8 to 1.

Duquesne's Stan Beltz was medalist for the match scoring a 72, two over par.

CHANGE PRACTICE FIELDS

The Ecclesian Club baseball team will use the Union High Field for a workout Friday evening it was announced by Manager Mike Annerella today, the South Hill field workout for tonight has been cancelled. All players are to take notice of the change.

F. B. I. Witness

NEW YORK—Angela Calomiris, 31-year-old Greenwich Village photographer whose sudden appearance as a witness in the trial of 11 top Communists caused consternation among the defendants, serving as an undercover agent for the FBI for seven years she gathered information for the FBI.

Truman Health Plan May Follow Outline Presented Herewith

WASHINGTON—(INS)—President Truman's plans for national health insurance have not been publicly detailed yet, but they're expected to follow these recommendations from Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator:

1. To pay for the insurance, the government would make payroll deductions—probably starting at one-half of one per cent, split evenly between employer and employee, on the first $4,800. The percentage would increase eventually to three or four per cent.

2. Every person covered by social security would come under the plan.

3. Individuals could select the doctors they wanted, as they do now, and the doctors would be free to accept or reject patients.

4. The government would pay the doctor out of the health insurance fund.

Russia Analyzed In Book Just Out

NEW YORK—(INS)—Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, has written a new book entitled "We're All In It."

The book discusses the problems posed for America in its role of world leadership. Because of "that other great world power"—as Johnston describes Soviet Russia—the author devotes four chapters to the people, leaders, tactics, and strategy of Stalin's country.

Johnston believes the American people should digest "every scrap of knowledge we have or can scrape together about Russia" so that we will have "an essential clue to guide our conduct in the global drama of today."

The author believes America will be confronted with the Russian problem for some time. He writes: "The Soviet problem will ebb and flow but it will be with us for a long time to come."

Lucky Folks Have Neat Heat Trick

BOISE, Ida.—(INS)—Three hundred fortunate Boise families are heating their homes without stoking furnaces, emptying ashes or keeping tabs on fuel consumption this winter.

They live over a natural reservoir from which the city pumps 174-degree water into their homes for heat. The reservoir water would not be metered at proper temperature until this winter when engineers of the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Company devised a system of valves and automatic controls.

Before it was controlled, the reservoir insisted on putting out the same amount of heat, whether the weather was mild or cold. Now the temperature of the water can be regulated for any type of weather.

WAC Enlistments Open In This Area

Scientists Learn That Tear Drops Not Tear Shaped

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—(INS)—Contrary to popular conception, raindrops are not tear-shaped. As a matter of fact, neither are tears when they fall very far.

According to scientists at General Electric in Schenectady, N. Y., large raindrops can change into new shapes as often as 50 times a second.

The weather scientists added that large drops also can resemble a variety of things, including pancakes, gourds, peanuts, telephone receivers, ducks, jelly beans, dumb bells, hot dogs, caterpillars and even human feet.

Smaller Ones Like Marbles
The smaller drops resemble marbles and footballs.

In a special study simulating raindrop behavior, the GE scientists developed an instrument known as a "drop controller" in which air resistance was produced similar to that encountered by falling raindrops.

By regulating the upward air current, the scientists found a drop of water could be suspended for short periods of time, and the same wind resistance conditions could be produced as occur when raindrops fall.

SIX ACCIDENTS FOR CHILD IN 12 YEARS

LORAIN, O.—(INS)—Twelve-year-old William McLoda is in St. Joseph's hospital—but that's nothing new.

The youth from nearby Amherst, who recently suffered compound fractures of both hips and both legs when he was struck by a skidding auto, is recovering from his sixth major accident in 12 years.

Joe Louis says he has no regrets about retiring from his heavyweight boxing championship and indicated financial reasons contributed to his decision.

Boosters Banquet At Cathedral Tonight Will Welcome Nats

Bluege And Bang Will Be Speakers

Tonight is the night, and the Cathedral dining room the place, for the Boosters banquet, a testimonial for the New Castle Nats baseball team. The starting time is 7 o'clock.

Upwards of 350 persons will gather round the festive boards and hear "baseball".

Famous Speakers

Such personages as Ossie Bluege, farm director of the Washington Senators, Ed Bang, sports editor of the Cleveland News, one of the most widely known sports writers in America, Hon. Mayor John Haven, Hon. Judge John Lamoree, as toastmaster, Mike Cannavino, president of the New Castle Nats, a well known amateur magician, who will perform some of his tricks, Billy Mongiello, manager of the Nats, Joseph Dougherty, president of the Johnson-Bronze Employees association and many others will speak.

It promises to be a big night, and will serve as an appetizer for the Mid-Atlantic league opening Friday night at P. J. Flaherty Memorial field which pits New Castle against Oil City.

The booster committee is headed by General Chairman William G. Sands. The men have done a lot of work to prepare this banquet. Let's get behind the Nats.

Rojek, Boudreau, Elliott Forced Out By Injuries

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 28.—The inevitable, and obvious lack of pitching depth had finally caught up today with the bedazzled Yankees to end their mad reign of pseudo-prosperity after nine hectic days.

It might be the end of their pennant dream, as well. For, while ball teams have been able to overcome certain physical liabilities by inspirational zeal and fervor, pitching definitely is not one of them.

That's one of those things—you either cure it, or endure it.

After those ninth and tenth innings at Washington last night, it seemed possible that a Yankee period of endurance might be about to set in. Until two out in the ninth, Allie Reynolds was perfect behind a 3-0 lead.

Senators Top Yanks

Then, suddenly, both Allie and the lead were gone. And Joe Page, who'd stopped the Athletics the day before, couldn't stop the Senators in the tenth. They won, 4-3, to break both a 7-game losing streak and a string of 20 runless innings. Frankly, they were "due"—and so, in reverse, were the Yankees.

Karl Drews yesterday stood off Hal Newhouser and the Tigers for 12 innings to win for the Browns, by 4-3, and topple the Tigers from their second-place perch.

Cleveland, the champion Indians won another yesterday, this time from the White Sox, 11-3, to take over second place from the Tigers. However, they may have lost the irreplaceable Boudreau for several days. The greatest living American leaguer left the game after being hit on the left elbow by Orval Grove, but said later he hoped to return to the lineup tomorrow.

Elliott-Rojek Hurt

This year's epidemic of injuries likewise hit the National league's most valuable player of 1947, Bob Elliott, of the Braves last night while Warren Spahn was pitching a 2-0 shutout over the Phillies for his maiden '49 victory. Elliott was carried from the field after being hit on the left knee cap by Willie (Pud'nhead) Jones' liner in the second inning, but apparently no bones were broken.

Almost simultaneously, Stan Rojek, Pittsburgh shortstop, was carried unconscious from Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, after being hit on the head by a pitched ball.

Shenango High Tops New Wilmington 10-1

Krosen, Badger And Getchy Top Sluggers As Wildcats Move Ahead In League Race

Shenango took over undisputed first place in the county baseball league Wednesday by whipping New Wilmington 10 to 1 on DeShon field.

The league lead may be only temporary because last night's game was played a day ahead of the regular schedule and Bessemer has a chance to regain the tie tonight.

A pair of freshmen, Don Krosen and Ed Badger, led the Wildcats at the plate. Krosen had a triple with two on and drove in another run with a single. Badger had three safe smashes including a triple. Bill Getchy turned in a brace of bingles.

Boyd had three of the five hits that New Wilmington got from Dick Krosen.

The summary:

N. W.ilmington	000 001 0	R. H. E.
Shenango	010 522 x-10	9 1

Batteries: New Wilmington—Wilken and Steingrabe; Shenango—Krosen and Getchy.

Umpire Candidates Meet Friday Night

Anyone interested in becoming a Lawrence County league umpire for the coming baseball season has that opportunity.

Men are needed and officers of the umpire association will meet with prospects at the Legion Home Friday, April 29, at 7:30.

Those who would like to umpire but cannot make it to the meeting should call Ben Price, chairman of umpires for the Legion.

Umpiring candidates are assured of good training, a lot of fun and the opportunity for financial gain.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

MERLE RICHARDS, manager of Jackie Thompson, of Detroit, wants to pit Jackie against Elkins Brothers here. Brothers, after a six months lay-off, came through with a six round award over Billy Guy because of a sixth round garrison finish at Philadelphia, according to Skip Rowland, who witnessed the fight. Lions', of Ellwood City, will stage a boxing show next Tuesday. The card is composed of: Billy Pozza, Ellwood City vs Leonard Marshall, Detroit, heavyweights, eight rounds; Chuck Higgins, Campbell vs Chuck Hodnet, Detroit, six rounds, 160 pounds; Bill Bradley, New Castle vs Jimmy Casson, Sharpsburg, six rounds, 160 pounds; Buddy Walls, Ellwood City vs Clarence Brown, Youngstown and Buddy Walls, Ellwood City vs Drexel Vickers, East Liverpool. The latter two bouts will be four round affairs. Joe Lattiano, former baseball player, now a businessman of Ellwood City, has been placed in charge of ticket sales by the Lions. It will be an indoor show in the Ellwood City high school gymnasium. The fights will be held on the same night as the baseball rally of the City League in the Cathedral, at which Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, will speak.

Boosters banquet in honor of the Nats, Mid-Atlantic team, will be held at seven p. m. tonight in the Cathedral. The Nats open their league season against Oil City here tomorrow, having won two and dropped one in an exhibition series with Wellsville. Rube Jones, umpire of several decades ago, steps so sprightly, he recalls the days of his umpiring. The tip is out: "Keep your eyes on two young infielders, Don and Dick Krosen, who are proving a double-play outfit for Shenango Township Junior high school baseball team." Their Dad, Scarpay, was in infielder for the Terrace A. C. decades ago. Tony Richards recalls that this year is the 50th anniversary of the Italian A. C. hot rivals of the Terrace. Carl Rogan, I. N. S., Pittsburgh, informs Here & There that John Bloom, Ebensburg, caught a four pound, 23-inch long Brown trout one mile north of Austin, in Fremont's Fork. George Rigby caught three seven-inch trout in the Slippery Rock. Ray Cyrus, Edenburg, took a 19 1/4 inch, two and a quarter pound Brownie with a night crawler, and spinner, from Deer Creek.

Fourth annual Cleveland Browns football coaching clinic is scheduled for May 6-7, and already the enrollment has passed the 900 mark. Last year, more than 1,200 high school and college grid coaches flocked to Cleveland to sit in on Coach Paul Brown's secrets-of-success sessions.

Mrs. Catherine Dukes, policewoman, reports a Neshannock avenue squirrel crawls to a window ledge, peers through a window pane and annoys a Spaniel dog. The squirrel, she says, apparently gets a "kick" out of its teasing tactics. Answer to T. C.: The record largemouth caught was a 22 lb. 4 ounce fish, length 32 1/2 inches, girth 28 1/2 inches, taken by George W. Perry, at Montgomery Lake, Ga., June 2, 1932, and the biggest Smallmouth, 14 pounds, length 23 inches, girth 21 1/4 inches, taken by Walter Harden, February 2, 1932, at Oakland, Fla. This information is from Field and Stream via Anglers Almanac. Joe Rick, local horseman, who has a string of about a score trotters and pacers, will ship out within the next few weeks. They're being trained now at the Rick farm, Harlansburg highway.

Mike Cannavino Pens Open Letter To New Castle Fans

The following letter from Michael Cannavino, president of the New Castle Nats of the Mid-Atlantic League, to the baseball fans of this city is hereby submitted.

The New Castle Citizens.

I am taking the privilege at this time to talk to you openly concerning your representative in the Middle-Atlantic Baseball League. You are all aware of what I inherited last spring. In the first place you were given a group of fellows to represent you as a ball club. I don't have to go into details about the sad outcome. However, we tried, as of June the 1st last year, to put on a capable ball club but under the circumstances and the lateness it was a difficult task. However, during that time, and the ensuing months, it was proven clearly to myself and to the men interested in giving you a worthy ball club that New Castle is a fine sports town and numbers many, many sport fans who are entitled to a worthy representative.

Want Good Team

We are now in the process of trying to give you that kind of a team. In the first place our confidence in New Castle has not wavered. We have contacted and are now working with the Washington Senators of the American League, who, I am sure, will do their best to help us in our goal and before many days pass, even after the season starts, news will be made rapidly to strengthen your entry in the league. As the picture now stands, you have an experienced, capable manager. One who I am sure will get out of the boys all that is humanly possible. We will have a good, young team and I only ask that you bear with us.

At this time I want to thank the many, many citizens who are displaying their wholehearted interest and giving help in any way in making this a successful season. We will do our part in making it known that New Castle is one of the cities in the circuit. It has been said that New Castle would not support a loser. Show me any city that will support a loser. In other words, you are sport fans, who, like every sport fan regardless of where they live, deserve the best that is possible. I am sure you have an interesting ball club and one that will be trying every minute and we assure you that any weak spots will be plugged as we encounter them.

We ask your patience and hope that you will be with us.

Sincerely yours,
MICHAEL A. CANNAVINO,
President.

Ohio State And Minnesota Will Rate High This Fall

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, April 28.—Ohio State and Minnesota, rough, tough, and freshman-loaded, have established themselves as co-threats to Michigan's conference title and Northwestern's Rose Bowl eminence in reports emerging from Big Nine spring football practice camps.

Michigan, unbeaten for two straight seasons and undisputed ruler of the nation last year, stands the greatest chance of losing ground in the 1949 Big Nine run. No other school with the possible exception of Purdue has lost as many front-line players and since Purdue didn't go anywhere last year with what it had, it can be excused from this part of the discussion.

Key Players Gone

Bennie Oosterbaan's Michigan club, on the other hand, has lost three of the very finest football players in the land: Dan Dworsky, the Giltbrat-like defensive center; Dom Tomasi, the watch-charm guard; and Quarterback Pete Elliott, the offensive brain and defensive pass pirate.

Halfbacks Leo Koceski and Chuck Ortmann, sophomore both last year, will be the offensive heart of the 1949 Michigan team, and fullbacks Tom Peterson and Dick Kempthorn and Tackle Al Wistert are back too.

The reason wise men are looking to Ohio State and Minnesota is fundamentally simple. Both were good, sound teams a year ago, the Gophers finishing third and the Buckeyes fourth in conference standings. But both now seem to have the added value of a climax halfback, Minnesota with a pair of sharpies up from the freshman team in Dick Gregory and George Hudak and Ohio State with another freshman, the reputedly great and already famous Vic Jonowicz from Elyria.

Good Prospects

Halfbacks Bob Robertson of Indiana and Ronnie Clark of Illinois are a couple of others up from the freshman teams whose praises already are being sung. But like Wisconsin, where Ivy Williamson, the new coach, is installing the T-formation, these two schools are considered still a year or so away.

The remaining enigma, then, is Northwestern, where Bob Voigts, who finished second to Michigan and then won the Rose Bowl game with his 1948 Wildcat team, has a strong nucleus with which to work. How far he can go with it in step-up competition next season is still to be seen.

Ed Tunniff and Tom Worthington are among the back who have returned, along with Mura-kowski and Burson. In addition, the whole first-string line with the exception of Center Alex Sarkisian is back again for '49.

Report Rojek Seriously Hurt

Pirate Shortstop Hit Behind Left Ear By Pitched Ball In Ninth Inning

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—(I.N.S.)—Stan Rojek, Pittsburgh Pirate shortstop, was in serious condition today with injuries received when hit in the head with a pitched ball.

Dr. Robert F. Hyland, who examined the 29-year-old ballplayer, said the injuries were not critical and that he found no fracture when he inspected wet X-ray plates.

Rojek was struck behind the left ear by a ball thrown by Cardinal southpaw Ken Johnson in the ninth inning of last night's St. Louis-Pittsburgh game. He was taken to St. John's hospital, where he was held for observation.

The pitch which knocked the shortstop to the ground was the second to hit him during the contest. Gerald Staley nicked Rojek on the left arm in the fifth inning.

They needed six adding machines to do it, but they finally put to rest another season for the Harlem Globetrotters.
